JAPAN EXPECTED TO MOVE

First Act May Be Declaration of War and Seizure of Chinese Province

LONDON, Aug. 23 (Sunday).—A dispatch to the Central news agency says that it is reported that the Japanese fleet, accompanied by a large number of transports conveying troops, is near Kiao-Chow in readiness to begin operations immediately when the ultimatum expires.

The German warships and forts are prepared to offer the utmost resistance.

LONDON, Aug. 23 (Sunday).—Exchange Telegraph company's Pekin correspondent says the Japanese already are ejecting the Germans from Shandong, Daini and other places.
The Japanese, the correspondent adds, take the view that the war area extends over China east of the Yellow river, and accordingly will place all Germans under surveillance from noon
today.

No Reply From Kaiser.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—The time limit of Japan's ultimatum to Germany, demanding that the Chinese territory of Kiao Chow, held by Germany, be unconditionally surrendered
to German cruisers now in the sea,
expires at midnight, eastern time, of noon
today.

As the ultimatum expires, the German fleet is expected to move into the Yellow Sea.

So far as is known, no such change has been forwarded through channels and the opinion was general that Germany had determined to ignore Japan in whatever is to follow.

BODY OF PIUS X RESTS IN HOLY BURIAL CHAMBER

1,000 WITNESSES ENTOMBED

Remains of Late Pontiff Are Placed Beside Those of Catholic Dead

ROME, Aug. 23.—The entombment of the late Pope Pius X. took place this evening at sunset. The great basilica of St. Peter was in semidarkness. A flickering light came from the perpetually burning tapers about the shrine of the apostle and the body of the pontiff was placed in the catafalque
where the pontiff had stood.

Those who witnessed the ceremony,
numbering about 1,000, came by special invitation and included the diplomatic representatives accredited to the holy see, the prelates and members of the Roman aristocracy.

The procession formed in the chapel of the Blessed Sacrament, where for hours the body of Pius X. lay in state.
The catafalque was surrounded by the triple crown and the body of the pontiff was clad in the pontifical robes and surrounded by the emblems of his sacred office. During the course of the day, many thousands of persons passed by the bier.

Funeral Procession.

This evening the bier was removed and placed on a low platform on wheels. At the gates of the chapel,
the archbishop of the basilica, in violet robes and surrounded by the chaplain, joined the procession. First came the cardinal and high prelates, each carrying a candle. In the center of the procession was the bier, the coffin
passing amid the kneeling crowd,
while through the vast and silent
church was heard the "Miserere," sung by the Sistine choir.

The solemn cortege marched into the crypt where the body of Pius will have his final resting place. Here the roof is very low, and the "Miserere" had a peculiarly weird and melancholy effect.

The tomb of the late pontiff is on the right, at the entrance to the subterranean chapel, close to that of several other popes. At this point, several of the late pontiff's belongings were removed to the room for the tomb of Pius, which, while partly within the walls, also projects into the passage.

Monument to Be Erected.

The body of the pontiff lies encoased
in a cypress wood coffin, on which rests
a gold cross. This is encoased in zinc and finally in an oak casket. On the casket is the inscription:
"Here lies the body of Pius X; born June 2, 1855; died August 20, 1914."
The coffin was placed within the tomb, while Cardinal Della Volpe recited prayers for the dead, accompanied by all present kneeling.
A monument to Pius X will be erected in the crypt.

TWO STEAMERS ARE BLOWN UP IN THE NORTH SEA BY GERMAN SUBMARINE MINES

British Government Issues Warning to Vessels to Avoid Engines of Death; Ships
Urged to Call at English Ports

LONDON, Aug. 23.—(Sunday).—The official news bureau
announces that two steamers, the Maryland from Copenhagen, and the Danish steamer Broberg, have struck mines in the North sea and foundered. They were on the main trade route 35 miles from shore.

The Maryland struck a mine Friday night. The crew of the Broberg, seeing the accident, proceeded to the rescue in launches, but failed to save the crew. On resuming the search Saturday morning the Broberg also struck a mine and foundered. Her crew was rescued.

LONDON, Aug. 23 (Sunday). The British official news bureau makes the following announcement:

"The admiralty draws attention to its previous warning to neutrals of the danger of traversing the North sea. The Germans are continuing their practice of scattering mines indiscrimi-nately upon the ordinary trade routes.
These mines do not conform to the conditions of the Hague convention.
They do not become harmless after a certain number of hours. They are not laid with a definite military scheme,
such as the closing of a military port,
or as a distinct operation against a fighting fleet, but appear to be scattered on the chance of catching individual British war or merchant vessels."

"In consequence of this policy, neutral ships, whatever their destinations,
are exposed to the gravest danger.
Two Danish vessels, the steamers Maryland and Broberg, have within the last 24 hours been destroyed by these deadly engines in the North sea
while traveling on the ordinary trade routes and a considerable distance from the British coast."

"In addition to this, it is reported that two Dutch steamers, clearing from Reddish points, were blown up yesterday by German mines in the Gulf of Finland."

GERMANS ON WAY TO FRANCE; GREAT BATTLE OF EUROPEAN WAR NOW RAGING IN BELGIUM

Battle Line Extends 20 Miles, from Namur to Charleroi, With Millions of Men in Greatest Struggle the World Has Ever Known

FIERCEST FIGHTING IN THE RECENT CAMPAIGN OCCURRED AT LOUVAIN

Belgians Demoralized by Night

Attack by the Germans
With Explosives

LONDON, Aug. 23 (Sunday).—
Writing of the fighting around Louvain and Aerschot, which the Belgian official report says was the severest of all the fighting during the recent German advance, the Daily Mail's London correspondent says:

"After the Germans had occupied Tirlemont they turned looking eyes on Louvain which they attacked cleverly.
Fighting along the line between Tirlemont and Louvain had almost ceased and the Belgians perhaps had begun to feel that the battle was ending up when late at night between 11 and 12 o'clock the Germans succeeded in surprising them. German aeroplanes were heard above the Belgian positions.

There were five aeroplanes which descended with great hardness to a height of not more than 200 feet whence they flung amidst the Belgian positions, metallic objects described as bombs, which on contact with the ground burst into flames. In the neighborhood of these flames, the German artillery directed its fire, while at the same time German aeroplanes illuminated the ranks of the Belgian infantry with search lights."

"The Belgians were taken completely
by surprise. A regiment of lanciers suffered severely and something approaching a rout followed, the troops retiring in disorder with their horses rearing and a great number of their motor cars trying to turn around and retreat."

"Pillaging has started on the battle field. Predator camp followers have made their appearance. Most of the German officers carry large amounts of money with them. Over $4,000 in German gold was found on one officer.
This proves a halt for the booty seeker who robs indiscriminately the dead and wounded Belgians and Germans."

BRITISH AND GERMANS CLASH ON OLD BATTLEFIELD OF WATERLOO

Prussians Trying to Flank Allies in Attempt to Gain Clear Sweep Toward French Border; British Warned Against Optimism, as War Has Just Begun

LONDON, Aug. 23.—(Sunday) A dispatch to the Reuter Telegram company from Ghent says it is reported that the Germans are marching toward France by way of Audenarde, a town 14 miles southwest of Ghent.

ANTWERP, Aug. 23.—(Sunday) The great battle between the Germans and the allied forces began Saturday morning, according to official announcement. The battle line extends from Namur to Charleroi, which lies about 20 miles to the east.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—(Sunday)—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from Paris states that Minister of the Interior Melvy, upon leaving a council of ministers last night, said to the waiting newspaper men:

"All I can tell you is, that the battle has begun. I know no more."

LONDON, Aug. 23.—(Sunday)—An official dispatch to the Reuter Telegram company from Antwerp, timed 10:50 o'clock Saturday night, tends to confirm the reports that a great battle began yesterday morning between the French and Germans. The dispatch says:

"It is believed that this morning a great battle commenced between the French and German armies between Namur and Charleroi. It is thought it will last two or three days. Precise details are lacking."

LONDON, Aug. 22.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from Ostend says a big battle appears to have begun this morning in the environs of Charleroi.

The greater portion of the German troops, according to this authority, have not yet passed the river Dender.

The Dender is to the east of Ghent and Bruges.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—(Sunday)—A Central News dispatch from Amsterdam says that a large detachment of German cavalry suffered virtual annihilation in the suburbs of Malines, Belgium, Friday afternoon. They were met suddenly by a squad of Belgians in motor cars, which were armed with machine guns. Most of the Germans were killed. A handful surrendered.

ANTWERP (via London), Aug. 23.—(Sunday)—English and German cavalry brigades had a sharp fight Saturday on the battlefield of Waterloo.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—(Sunday).—After nearly three weeks of mobilization, the battle of the giants has begun. Roughly speaking, the Germans are trying to work around the allies'
flank in Belgium, while the French are attempting to apply
the same process to the Germans in Alsace.

Almost all the encounters which have gone before have been mere reconnaissances. The defeat of a regiment here and there has been proclaimed as a great victory, but in this grapple of hundreds of thousands most of these affairs have had no significance. The official announcements from both sides have been extremely candid so far.

From the standpoint of the allies the important feature in Saturday's developments is the great battle which began in the morning on the Namur-Charleroi line. This is being fought on the position chosen by the allies.

A German official statement says that troops under the command of the crown prince of Bavaria, fighting between Metz and Vosges, took 10,000 prisoners and 50 guns. It adds that the French troops opposing the Germans comprised eight army corps.

An official British statement explains calmly that nothing resembling a great battle has been fought as yet and warns the people against optimism.

Reports from the Austro-Serbian boundary say that the Serbians have won a battle on the Drina, which military experts consider highly probable, as the Serbians have a comparatively small army, but one which has passed through two years' actual war, and therefore has the advantage of veterans fighting against amateurs.

From the Russian boundary conflicting reports come, both sides claiming successes.

The English papers are warning the people that the war is only beginning, and they must be prepared for a long struggle which will tax the resources and manhood of the nation to the utmost limit.

MASKERS TO MAKE MERRY ON STREETS FOR TWO HOURS BEFORE OUTDOOR BALL BEGINS

Committees Complete Plans for Annual Ball
Masque Thursday; Box Seats Now Selling

"Mask Ball To Be Best Ever"—"Big Demand For Boxes For Mask Ball"—
One Hundred Men Working To Make Carnival Big Success—"Mask Ball Grandstands Will Seat Thousands."

And so go the newspaper headlines
each day on the Chamber of Commerce
p. a. stories about the mask ball to be given Thursday night on Kiowa between Telson and Nevada. Granted,
the headlines serve their purpose,
that of attracting attention to the
p. a. effusions. As a matter of fact,
they never would have been questioned
had it not been for a query over the telephone last evening.

Girls Seek Information.
Say, where do we come in on this mask ball? the girl—it was a girl who called, asked in a rather injured tone after the customary preliminaries.
"Who's we and what do you mean by 'come in'?"

"Why, the maskers, of course," she replied, even more impatiently. "You've been printing a lot of stuff about how many thousands are going to watch
the dance and how many feet long
the grandstands are going to be and just what particular spot the Midland band will occupy and—"

But that was enough.
"Yes, yes, that is plain. But just what do you want to know?"

"Everything that concerns those who are going to furnish the real entertainment of the evening; namely, us."

"Well, that's different. You—" and the matter was explained in detail,

in such detail as is known at present.

For as the dancers are concerned
the ball this year will not differ greatly from that of last summer. The block on Kiowa between Telson and Nevada will be turned over to them for the evening without restriction. That is,
they can enjoy themselves to the utmost without becoming rowdies.

To Wax Pavement Thursday.
Next Thursday morning bright and early a big force of men will begin converting the street pavement into a dance floor. Every square inch of asphalt will be scrubbed, the little depression will be filled and the pavement waxed thoroughly. Then the workmen probably will give a little dance all their own just to put the floor into better condition. Perhaps Tod Powell, one of the directors of the festival, will attend to this matter.

Maskers will be given the run of the downtown streets between 6 and 8 o'clock in the evening. The usual stunts of a street mask will be permitted. At 8, or thereabouts, the ball proper will begin. The Midland band will provide the music as formerly and all dances will be in order. Maskers may dance, entertain the crowds with antics unheard of on other occasions, or just water.

So it will be plainly seen that it will pay to attend the ball masked.
Those in comical or beautiful or any other kind of costume and with their faces behind masks will be given far more privileges than just ordinary

JAPAN DECLARES WAR ON GERMANY; BELLENS HOSTILITIES IN ORIENT

*Mikado in Imperial Rescript
Orders Army and Navy to Begin Campaign on Land and Sea*

German Ambassador at Tokio Given Passports; Austria Considered as Neutral so Long as She Does Not Take the Offensive

TOKIO, Aug. 23.—The emperor of Japan this evening declared war upon Germany. This action was taken at the explanation of the time limit of Japan's ultimatum to Germany demanding the surrender of Kiao-Chow.

The Japanese government has ordered the beginning of operations on land and sea in the far east.

Cheering crowds assembled today before the buildings occupied by the department of foreign affairs and the administration of the navy. This evening there were lantern procesions through the streets. The popular manifestations, however, do not approach the enthusiasm which preceded the war with Russia.

GERMAN AMBASSADOR IS HANDED PASSPORTS

Count Von Rex, the German ambassador, has been handed his pas-ports. He probably will leave for America either on the Minnesota, sailing August 27, or the Manchuria, which departs on the 29th. George W.
Guthrie, the American ambassador, will represent Germany. The di- has been handed in special session for September 1st.
The Austrian cruiser Kaiserin Elizabeth, which lately was at Tsing-Tau,
the report of Kiao-Chow, is reported to have sailed. She probably will go to a neutral port and disarm. It is believed this action will keep Austria out of the war in the Orient, although unforeseen circumstances may force
her to change this policy.

GERMANY TRYING TO TRANSFER ROAD TO U. S.

No action has been taken relative to Austria and the foreign office has explained that Japan will remain friendly unless Austria adopts an attitude which it regards as offensive.
It is reported here that Germany has been trying to transfer the German railroad in Shantung, China, to America. Tokio believes, however, that the United States, pursuing the policy of neutrality outlined by President Wilson, will not accept. President Wilson's announcement of neutrality has greatly pleased the Japanese.

TEXT OF THE IMPERIAL RESCRIPT ORDERING WAR

The text of the imperial rescript is:
Issued at Tokio, Aug. 23rd, 6 p. m.
We, by the grace of heaven, the emperor of Japan, seated on the throne occupied by the same dynasty from time immemorial, do hereby make the following proclamation to all our loyal and true subjects:
We hereby declare war against Germany, and we command our army and navy to carry on hostilities against that empire with all their strength, and we also command all our competent

*Powerless to Gain Ear of Warring Nations, U. S. Will Remain Neutral Observer
in European-Oriental Conflict*

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Viscount Chinda, the Japanese ambassador here, today formally notified the United States that Japan had declared war
on Germany. The American government was immediately asked to care
for Japan's interests in Germany.
Assurances recently given by the British government to the United States that Japan's activity would be confined to the China seas and eastern Asia were repeated by Viscount Chinda.

The position of the United States, as set forth in Secretary Bryan's note of three days ago, has met with the approval of Japan.
President Wilson will issue
the formal proclamation of neutrality similar to those made with respect to the other belligerents in the European war.

The American government did not undertake to communicate the rescript

authorities to make every effort, in pursuance of their respective duties, to attain the national aim by all means
within the limits of the law of nations.

FORCED INTO CONFLICT, SAYS THE EMPEROR

Since the outbreak of the present war in Europe, the calamitous effect
of which we view with grave concern,
on our part, have entertained hopes of preserving the peace of the Far East
by the means of a "policy of satisfaction," but the action of Germany has at length compelled Great Britain, our

Japanese Declaration of War Reaches Berlin

LONDON, Aug. 23. A dispatch to the Reuter Telegram company from Amsterdam
says an official communication received there from Berlin declared that the Japanese diplomatic representatives in the German capital today received by word of mouth the German answer to the Japanese ultimatum.

This was that the German government had no reply to make to the Japanese demands.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—
Japan's declaration of war on Germany has reached Berlin,
according to official reports received in Washington late tonight. Whether the declaration was sent by cable or wireless was not indicated.

U. S. Only Neutral Observer

The active interest of the United States now in the far eastern situation is that of a neutral observer.
Aside from informal verbal exchanges between Viscount Chinda and Secretary Bryan in Washington and between American Ambassador Guthrie
and the foreign office in Tokio,
there is nothing of record so far as commit the Japanese to the limited field of hostilities laid down in the British note of last week.

The impression prevails here among diplomats, however, that the statement of Viscount Chinda, taken in connection with the speech in the Japanese diet last week of Count Okuma, the Japanese premier, is quite sufficient to bind the Japanese government to a

CONGRESS HELD IN SESSION BY EUROPEAN CRISIS

EMERGENCY ACTION IS FEARED DAILY

War Risk Insurance Com-
Up This Week; Many Other Bills Pending

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—War in Europe still grips the interest of congress and promises to hold it in session indefinitely. Commerce, which the war has most seriously affected,
is the principal subject with which congress is concerned, since the executive departments now are taking care of American refugees in the fighting zone.

This week the bill to establish a bureau of war risk insurance in the treasury department probably will be enacted. The measure has passed the senate, and, although there is some opposition to it in the house, administration leaders intend to push it through even if it is necessary to invoke a special rule for the purpose.
The administration desires this legislation as an additional inducement to owners of foreign-built ships to apply for American registry. The president favors the bill and so does a majority of the administration leaders.

Purchase of Ships Next.
Following the passage of the insurance bill, the proposal of the government to organize a corporation for a purchase of ships to engage in transoceanic trade will be earnestly taken up in the senate and house. Senator
Clark of Arkansas and Representative Alexander have immediate charge of this matter and hope to introduce bills covering the subject within a few days.

President Wilson and congressional leaders conferred yesterday regarding this legislation. It was practically agreed that the proposal should be embodied in a bill giving the government authority to carry out the project
if necessary. If private capital does not provide vessels, officials agree, it will be absolutely essential for the government to purchase ships to take care of the exportation of American products.

Situation in the Senate.
In the senate consideration also will be given during the week of the bill
to give federal license to cotton warehouses. Amendments are pending to include tobacco and naval stores warehouses, and canned salmon warehouses.
Consideration of the Clayton antitrust
bill will be resumed and its sponsors

POLITICAL POPE MAY BE CHOSEN

CHOICE TO LIE BETWEEN 16 CARDINALS

Date for Conclave Not Yet
Fixed; May Not Occur
Before September 5

ROME, Aug. 23.—Blessed masses were celebrated in St. Peter's and in all the Catholic churches in Rome today. Thousands of persons visited St.
Peter's to pay tribute before the altar of confession, under which the body of Pope Pius X rests.

The third meeting of the congregation of cardinals was held today and the question of the conclave for the election of a new pope was discussed.
The coming conclave will resemble that in 1878 which elected Pope Leo. Europe had then been disturbed by the Russo-Turkish war and the treaty of St. Stefano was signed on the day
Pope Leo was crowned.

Again the nations are at warfare and it is believed that the present conclave will favor the election of a political pope, as did the conclave of 1878.
Sixteen to Select From.
The elimination of cardinals so that the most probable candidates for the papacy might be listed has been under consideration. It is hardly believed possible that a foreign pope will be chosen.

This removes 19 cardinals from the candidacy and it is also considered unlikely that the pontiff will be chosen from among the cardinals above 70
years old, thus eliminating 25 more.
Finally, there are five cardinals deacon,
who, according to tradition, never could be elected. Thus the choice would lie among 16, some of whom are believed obviously to be out of the question, leaving Cardinals Ferrari, Fer-raris, Maffi, Gasparri, Fumilli, De Lai
and possibly one or two others to select from.

Date Not Yet Fixed.

PARIS, Aug. 23.—The correspondent
at Rome of the Havas agency quotes
the Messager as saying that, contrary to the assertion in certain newspapers
that the conclave to elect a successor to Pope Pius X will meet August 31,
the date of the conclave has not been fixed. It probably will not be before September 5, as several of the cardinals will not be able to reach Rome
until then.

FRANCE OPPOSES AMERICAN PLAN SHIP NEUTRALITY

SAYS SCHEME FAVORS
GERMAN SHIPPING

Americans Oppose to Plan
From the European War Theater

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—France
has replied unfavorably to the proposal of the United States that ships owned by belligerent countries, but chartered by this government for the sole purpose of repatriating Americans,
be regarded as neutral.

The United States recently notified
all European belligerents that under article four of The Hague convention of 1907, which exempts from capture all vessels occupied in a mission of philanthropy, this government would regard as neutral ships chartered to bring Americans home. Each power, however, was asked for a declaration
on the subject.

Great Britain's response was that if such ships were manned by American officers and crew the American flag
she would have no objection. The plan was to charter some of the Hamburg-American liners tied up in American ports to go abroad, bring Americans
home and remain in American ports
after they return. France indicated her disapproval of the plan on the ground that this would be an advantage to German shipping.

Officials did not say whether they would continue to regard foreign-owned ships chartered by the American government as neutral, carrying out to the letter their construction of The Hague convention. It is not believed France or Great Britain would interfere with these ships if the United States had no other way of bringing Americans home, but as such facilities have appeared in the past week it is unlikely that the United States will press the point.

Americans now are leaving Germany
by way of ports in Holland. Those in Austria are going to Switzerland and thence to France or Italy.

650 American Rafters, London.
LONDON, Aug. 23.—Steamers from Flushing, the Netherlands, tonight brought here 650 Americans, most of whom were at Carlsbad when the war broke out.

Among the passengers were Frank
A. Munsey, the publisher, who has been active among relief workers at Carlsbad, and Archer M. Huntington, president of the American Geographic society, and his wife who were arrested at Nuremberg two weeks ago and held by the German police for a day or two as spies.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Two transatlantic liners brought from Europe

passengers of whom several hundred were American war-zone refugees.

icans were on the Anchor Line com-

RUSSIANS BATTERING DOWN GERMANY'S EAST DEFENSE

Strong Reinforcements Will Be Required to Stem Tide Against Czar's Onrushing Millions

At last, the ponderous Russian army has got into action. For three weeks the world has been wondering when and where the czar's mighty force would strike.

Now come reports, through the London cable office,
however, that the Russians are battering at the eastern defense of the kaiser's domain in East Prussia, and that German reinforcements will be required to stem the tide of invasion from the east.

A dispatch to the London Daily Mail was received from St. Petersburg last night that a great battle had just ended, with the rout of the German forces. The battle front extended nearly 30 miles and the struggle lasted for six days.

First Great Battle Fought.
LONDON, Aug. 24.—(Monday).—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from St. Petersburg, sent under today's date, says that the first great battle in the east Prussian theater of operations has been fought and won by the Russians, who gained a complete victory after six days of desperate fighting. The correspondent continues:

"The battle front extended nearly 30 miles on both sides of the main railway line running from Eydikuyenn, a town on the Russian border, westward.
The fighting began, Thursday, when the Russians attacked the German first division, which had delivered several unsuccessful assaults on Eydikuyenn.
The forces on both sides were gradually increased. The Germans finally had three army corps engaged.

GREAT BATTLE MAY LAST SEVERAL DAYS

Paris Admits That Allied Armies Now Are Facing Desperate Struggle

PARIS, Aug. 23.—The following official announcement was issued tonight:

"A great battle is now in progress
along a vast line extending from Mons to the frontier of Luxemburg. Our troops are in conjunction with the British and have assumed everywhere
the offensive. We are faced by almost the whole German army, both active and reserve.

"The ground, especially on our right, is thickly wooded and difficult. The battle is likely to last several days.
"The enormous extent of the front and the number of forces involved makes it impossible to follow step by step the movements of each of our armies. We must await the result of the first phase of the combat before we can form any conclusion as to the situation. Otherwise, we should be giving the press divergent and contradictory news, since such a battle naturally
is made up of actions and reactions which follow and connect in a continuous manner.

Cause of Withdrawal.

"In the Vosges, the general situation
determined us to withdraw our troops from Donon and the Sables-pass. These points were no longer of any importance, since we occupied the fortified line, beginning at Grand Couronné de Nancy, Lunéville, is occupied by the Germans and at Namur the Germans are making great efforts against the forts which resist energetically.

"The forts at Liège still hold. Fort Chateau de Fontaine has been the scene of an act of heroism which affirms
only more the brilliant valor of the Belgian army.

KAISER AT WAR WITH WORLD; JAPAN LATEST TO ENTER ARENA

Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria Reported to Be Dying; Italy to Mobilize Army This Week; Russians Overrun East Prussia

The French and British troops are facing the greater part of the German artillery along a battle line which extends from Mons to the Luxemburg frontier.

The allied armies, which have been concentrating at strategic points for the past two weeks, are believed to be strongly intrenched, with powerful forts to lend them support in holding back the invaders.

An official announcement issued at Paris warns the people that the tide of battle may ebb and flow; that there will be actions along this great line, which are bound to be responded to by just as striking counter actions by the Germans, and that the people must wait for the outcome of the first phase of this great struggle, which will probably last several days, before it can be determined upon which side victory rests.

JAPAN ENTERS WAR OF NATIONS

Japan has entered into the war of nations. The emperor of Japan has declared war on Germany, and the Japanese fleet and land forces are ready for the struggle around Kiao-Chow.
The German protectorate in China. Late dispatches from Tsing-Tau say that the German preparation is complete and that the territory will be defended to the utmost. Several German warships are lying in the harbor of Tsing-Tau and the waters have been mined.

Coincidentally with Japan's declaration of war against Germany, the British official news bureau announces that the Austro-Hungarian government has ordered the Austrian cruiser Kaiserin Elisabeth, now at Tsing-Tau, to disarm and has instructed the crew to proceed to Tien-Tsin. This apparently eliminates Austria from the conflict in the far east.

FRANCIS JOSEPH DYING, IS REPORT

Reports are current that Emperor Francis Joseph is seriously ill. These reports have been denied, but they are being reiterated.

While the Liege forts are said to be holding out, an official statement from the French government tells of the blowing up of Fort Chau de Fontaine by the Belgian commander after it had been razed by the German guns.

Official Russian dispatches claim victory for the Russian forces over three German corps. General Duke Nicholas, commander-in-chief of the Russian army, describes Russian victories in east Prussia.

The Serbians apparently are driving out the Austrians and a late dispatch by way of Italy says it is common at Vienna that the operations against Serbia on the Danube river have been abandoned.

It is reported that the Italian army will be mobilized
August 27.

EUROPEAN WAR BULLETINS

LONDON, Aug. 24. (Monday).—A
Rome dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company reports that Emperor Francis Joseph is in a grave condition
and may die at any moment.

MALTA, Aug. 23.—Influential Italians living here declare they have good reason to believe that Italian intervention in the war in favor of Great Britain, France and Russia is only a question of days.

PARIS, Aug. 23.—There are indications of acute diplomatic stress between Vienna and Rome, according to the correspondent of the Petit Parisien in the latter city. Austria, it is declared, has reproached Italy for according facilities to the allied fleets in the Adriatic, and it is asserted that a declaration of war between Italy and Austria will be announced early next week.

Rome, via London, Aug. 23.—The Avanti says today that there has been another naval engagement in the Adriatic in which several Austrian ships were sunk.

The same paper says Greece has dispatched troops to aid Serbia in her fight against Austria.

LONDON, Aug. 23. A dispatch to the Havas agency from Ostend says
bloody fighting is reported at Luttre,
in the province of Hainault, and that an important battle is raging in that province.

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 24. (Monday).— Telegraphing from Rosendael, Holland,
the correspondent of the Central News
says:
"There is no doubt that a big battle
is now in progress in the neighborhood of Charleroi, Belgium. The Germans are rushing troops in that direction.
Only 3,000 troops are left in Brussels, which is more completely isolated than
is Liege."

CHRIST GREATEST OF ALL TEACHERS, SAYS REV. GUM

Too Many Leaders Today, Minister Declares Who Discount Real Christianity and Broad Confusion.

The Rev. Edgar Gordon Gum, pastor of the First Baptist church, Colorado City, preached yesterday on "Follow Jesus," taking his text from Matthew 16:24. He said in part:

"I am convinced that the greatest teacher this world has ever had is Jesus Christ. He knew the past, the present and the future. He had no selfish ends to serve in his teaching. He has the greatest good of all in view when he taught. It was no small task for him to surpass the sages who preceded him, and also those who followed him. If we lay aside the fact of his divinity, he would not have surpassed Socrates, Plato and Aristotle. I think, but being divine and herein he is proved he surpassed all teachers and this day he stands crowned over all."

In his teaching, the basis of happiness both for the individual and for nations, is the purity of the individual. Give the pure unit and we have pure groups. Pure family life, pure cities and pure nations. It does not matter whether you are a man or woman, pure, purity comes as he taught, not through education and culture. These are the veneering, but by regeneration and the indwelling of the Christ, Jesus' emphasis was always on a saved man, each man saved. The basis of peace is a pure heart. Jesus' Christ, real, vital and personally in the heart and life, is a necessity. We have to follow him and make this old world happy and strong by education, peace conferences and the Hague tribunals, but these have failed and what shall we say? We say, back to the teachings of Christ, the prince of peace. You come and you and you and have your heart righted, then will you seek your neighbors' interests and his good, and stop war arising out of personal grievances and greed. If we had a redeemed England, individually, a redeemed Germany, Russia and France, the blood of needed men would not be flowing like a river. Jesus struck the keynote—a pure individual. Will you be pure?

Follow Jesus as Leader.

Jesus and religion are not separated from the various relations of life. They are at the very heart center of all of them. They are the balance to prevent flying off at a tangent. The tangent of militarism, commercialism, the big I and little you Jesus had to do with the various relations of life and he condemned him for over-emphasizing one interest to the neglect of others. Religious and other duties do not conflict except as we get things out of joint. Jesus is a safe leader. Paul said, "Follow me as I follow the Lord." The real test of a leader in any plane of life, activities is, "as I follow the Lord." You may not like it if I do not follow you. But are you following the Lord? That is the test. We are not asked to follow him as we follow a man. Jesus is above man, divine. Who can prove that he has led any man wrong? We can not safely follow men as evidenced by the fearful and unparalleled disasters now upon us.

We have too many leaders. The earthly are exalted and Jean Humbird, "Jesus like a river." His commands are broad. Jesus and real Christianity are discounted. The straight and narrow way has been forsaken as being too straight and too narrow. Ritualism in England has devalued faith. Compulsion to do religious duties has deheartened them and their faith is shipwrecked. The reign of so-called

The Changing Map of Europe

HOW BOUNDARY LINES HAVE SHIFTED SINCE THE FRAUD OF WESTPHALIA

From the Kansas City Star.

The lands of Europe are once more upon the auction block. The royal bidders of Europe, magnificently propped up by the arm of the United States, are gathered again to win with their treasures of blood and gold the coveted prizes of extended frontier and sea-coast that have already had so many different masters. Once more the map-makers wait outside the auction house for the final settlement, to let the world know where the new land titles rest.

The maps of Europe, their outlines are like the shifting desert sands. From the first page of known history the story of Europe has been one of never ending changes of dominion. Even in the last 250 years, which is historically a comparatively short time, one great nation, France, has been lost two others, Germany and Italy, have come to their present national unity, and numerous other lesser states, Holland, Belgium, Switzerland, Portugal and the Spanish and Latin states of the Balkan peninsula, have been battle grounds, losing and gaining their independence as if with the throw of the die.

Peace Only an Armed Truce.

The peace of Europe is a myth. When the great nations ended 70 long years of conflict early in the Seventeenth century, the concluding treaty was so momentous that it was not called a treaty but a peace—the peace of Westphalia concluded in 1648.

The 30-years war of Germany was the last great conflict between Catholicism and Protestantism. Germany, already become merely a heterogeneous collection of states—was called the Holy Roman empire. It was Voltaire who later said it was neither holy, Roman, nor an empire. The house of Hapsburg, head of the empire by intermarriage and strife, was more and more interested outside of Germany. When the Hapsburgs allowed Ferdinand, a strong Catholic, to take the throne of Bohemia in 1617, the war which devastated Europe began. Richelieu in France always waiting to crush the Hapsburg house, aided the Protestants. The war swept over Germany, Sweden, France and the Netherlands. When it ended, Switzerland and the United Netherlands were freed from German dominion, and the states of what is now Germany were conceded to be separate from the Hapsburg rule and to be autonomous. France, destined by Richelieu's policy to be the greatest power of Europe in another century, penetrated to the east by the seizure of the bishopric of Metz, Toul and Verdun. Alsace, today the battleground between France and Germany, went from Austrian hands to France. Sweden, great on the sea, received enough territory in north Germany to command the mouths of the three German rivers, the Oder, Elbe and Weser.

The Rise of Prussia.

The Germany of today received in that treaty one of the gifts that fortune keeps for those destined to be great. The largest accretions of territory received by any of the German states was by Brandenburg, the nucleus of later Prussia and finally of Germany. In 1701 the Elector Frederick of Brandenburg took the title of king of Prussia. By reason of its state Protestantism and its energy, Prussia came to be the strongest of German nationalities and enmity to Hapsburg domination. Frederick the Great, who reigned in Prussia from 1740 to 1786, found his opportunity to lead his nation to greater power in the war of the Austrian succession.

The "Succession Wars" were five in number. The result of the first one—the Spanish succession—early in the Eighteenth century, gave to five Austria the Spanish Netherlands, and the duchies of Milan, Naples and Sardinia. Savoy, a leader in Italian affairs, exchanged Sardina for Sicily. England joined Gibraltar, a strategic point on the present war, and Austria in America from the French. The war of the Polish succession, ending in 1795, resulted in a few territorial changes, but it brought France to a guarantee of the Pragmatic Sanction, a warrant for no interference with the ascendancy of Maria Theresa to the throne of Austria.

Frederick Made a New Map.

It was at this point that Frederick the Great interfered. He asserted an old claim to Austria's throne and invaded Silesia. The final array of hosts was fought at Mollath in 1763. Prussia and Austria, the Bourbon king of Naples and Sicily, Prussia, Holland and Holland. The treaty of Breslau in 1762, Prussia was given most of Silesia, Pomerania and Sardinia went to the aid of Austria and Frederick again invaded Bohemia in 1757. The treaty of Aix-la-Chapelle in 1763, allowed Prussia to keep Silesia. Otherwise Austria remained intact.

The growth of Russia is closely related to the history of Sweden, even as it is now. In 1700, Russia's sovereignty over Finland, Sweden had come into power when Charles XII, crushed a coalition of Denmark, Poland and Russia. In 1709 he invaded Russia and was defeated. Peter the Great then seized Sweden east of the Baltic and built St. Petersburg.

The history of Poland became a gradual disintegration from the middle of the Eighteenth century, due to large part to the loose system of government and weak rulers. In 1772 the first partition took place between Prussia, Austria and Russia. The Polish diet was limited to agree to a further division in 1793. Russia, Prussia and Austria, as ever, signed the Polish cause, and the final partition came in 1795.

Napoleon Wiped Out Boundaries.

The wars of Napoleon from the first brilliant Italian campaign to their end at Waterloo are records of territorial aggrandizement. In the first campaign Italy became the Cisalpine republic, and Genoa the Italian republic. This was in the time of Napoleon's democratic sympathies. A trial was forced to give up the lower Netherlands, Belgium and Lombardy.

Napoleon became first consul in 1802. When ideas of democracy grew dim and Bonaparte became emperor in 1804 he made himself king of Italy and annexed his Italian republic.

The next campaign was against the Russian, Austrian and English coalition. Vienna was occupied and Austria again made a new map necessary. Francis I of Austria ceded Tyrol and Venetia. His successor gave up the title of emperor and the Holy Roman empire dissolved into mists of history.

In 1806 Napoleon formed the confederation of the Rhine, made his brothers, Joseph, king of Naples and Louis king of Holland. Prussia entered the war and Napoleon, after Jena and Austerlitz, entered Berlin. He made a treaty with Russia to crush England. Portugal, an English ally, was dismembered. Spain was conquered and Joseph Bonaparte became its king. The Swedish revolution in 1809 brought Marshal Bernadotte, a brother-in-law of Joseph, to the Swedish throne. Joseph Bonaparte and the kingdom of Westphalia. Tuscany was annexed in 1807, the papal states in 1809 and Holland and part of the German coast in 1810. Austria gave up its Illyrian provinces.

The Diplomats as Map-Makers.

The tide turned with the Russian invasion, after Russia went over to England in 1812. In 1815, the Russian campaign, the decisive campaign of 1814, the abdication of the one hundred days and Waterloo. The congress of Vienna rearranged the map of Europe and Europe went back to its place west of the Rhine. Belgium was annexed to Holland and was freed only when the Catholics of Belgium revolted against Protestant Holland in 1830. A compact of the powers guaranteed its independence and neutrality. Luxembourg was elevated to a grand duchy under German control by the treaty. It was later divided between the Dutch and the Belgians, but was made a neutral sovereign state under a guarantee of the powers in 1867.

The congress of Vienna also prepared the way for Italian unity. Seven principal states were mapped out and only two left under foreign rule, French Corsica and Austrian Lombardy and Venetia. Unification came under Victor Emmanuel II. At the death of his minister, Cavour, in 1861, only Venice and Rome were lacking.

The loosening of Turkish rule in eastern Europe came in 1829, when Greece won its independence, aided by Russia and western Europe. Bulgaria, Herzegovina, now out of Austria's troublesome slave states, Serbia and Montenegro became independent in 1878. Rumania was freed two years later. In the treaty of Berlin, 1878, Bosnia and Herzegovina went to Austria.

German unity, which came in 1871, during the war with France, changed the map of Europe but very little. However, in that slightcession of Alsace and Lorraine to Germany after the war were the seeds of that hatred which makes so dramatic the conflict that Europe now wages.

be given daily, one in the afternoon at 2:30, the other in the evening at 8:00 o'clock. The performance runs two hours.

Annette Kellermann will be seen in the great photoplay, "Neptune's Daughter," at the Opera house, for three days, beginning this afternoon.

"It is marvelous," says Miss Kellermann, "what a wonderful thing the art of pantomime is. When we stop to consider that with a vocabulary of few words, one can go through life abundantly able to express hopes, fears, wishes and the demands made in answering and asking questions, incidental to ordinary conversations, and that it has been said in the course of ordinary business, outside of technical lines, a vocabulary of 1,000 to 1,200 words is all that a man need possess in his line or vocation; the man who has 6,000 words at his command is considered to be beautifully endowed."

The demand for Annette Kellermann in "Neptune's Daughter" has been such that the Universal Film feature, also will be shown. It's a Manufacturing company has 22 complete sets of the northern woods and thrills in one. Two performances will be in the extreme.

"MILLION-DOLLAR MYSTERY"

Today, at the Empress, the tenth episode of "The Million-Dollar Mystery," entitled "Shanghai," will be shown. In a remarkable series of incidents, Florence La Badie, the heroine, who was left with her mind blank in a fisherman's village, supposedly dead, is brought into the mystery again by James Cruze, the hero of the story, who, after being shanghaied on a tramp steamer, is thought to have been put out of the way by the conspirators. The episode is full of thrills and deepens the mystery to a great extent. "The Robbery" at Plaza River, a Broncho two-act feature, also will be shown. It's a Manufacturing company has 22 complete sets of the northern woods and thrills in one. Two performances will be in the extreme.

CARBAJAL REACHES U. S. WILL LIVE IN FLORIDA

ally, to open hostilities against that country, and Germany, in the Kiao-Chow, its leased territory in China, with warlike preparations, while its armed vessels, cruising the seas of eastern Asia, are threatening our shipping and that of our ally, Peace of the East is thus in jeopardy.

"Accordingly, our government and that of His Britannic Majesty, after full and frank communication with each other, agreed to take such measures as may be necessary for the protection of the general interests, contemplated in the agreement of alliance, and we, on our part, being desirous to attain that object by peaceful means, commanded our government to offer with sincerity an advice to the Imperial German government. By the last day appointed for this purpose, however, our government failed to receive an answer accepting their advice.

"It is with profound regret that we, in spite of our ardent devotion to the cause of peace, are thus compelled to declare war, especially at this early period of our reign, and while we are still in mourning for our lamented mother.

"It is our earnest wish that by the loyalty and valor of our faithful subjects, peace soon may be restored and the glory of the empire be enhanced."

JAPANESE ENTERTAIN ONLY FRIENDSHIP FOR AMERICANS

Conferees have been held daily recently by the cabinet, the privy council and officers of the army and navy. The cabinet has arranged war regulations which will be gazetted tomorrow.

The newspapers express surprise at the extent of American suspicions regarding Japan's motives in making the ultimatum, but leading writers express a firm confidence that a better understanding will be had with the people of America.

Plutarch Okuma states that documentary evidence will show that England not only requested Japan's assistance, but approved her entire program.

A dispatch from Peking says the German minister and Chinese foreign officials were about to sign an agreement regarding China-Taiwan, when Japan's ultimatum was announced, whereupon the Chinese foreign office refused to proceed.

Under dispatches from President Yuan Shi Kai is satisfied with Japan's attitude and pledges.

GERMANS AND THEIR INTERESTS TO BE PROTECTED

A dispatch from Harbin, Manchuria, says railway passenger communication is open between Siberia and European Russia.

It is reported that a number of German residents were arrested and imprisoned at Irkutsk, Siberia, and that others fled into Chinese territory disguised as Chinese.

Speaking today at Karuzawa Kyu, Saito Shinnichi, a member of the opposition in parliament, said he believed Japan had no desire to keep Kiao-Chow. He asserted that it was Japan's policy to prevent a stir in China.

"The retaining of Kiao-Chow," he said, "would mean the danger of revolution in China and incurring the ill-will of America. Japan is appreciative of Germany's contribution to Japanese civilization, but is resentful because the Kaiser's fiat raised the cry of 'yellow peril' and Germany directed a combination to oust Japan from Port Arthur in 1905."

Plutarch Okuma has requested the Japanese people to be especially considerate of German residents. Japan, he said, has no hatred of German residents, whose lives and property are protected by law.

An imperial ordinance gives German merchants until September 5 to discharge their cargoes and sail away safely under the protection of passports.

that they might carry away their dead and wounded. The Russians refused.

Germans Driven Back.

"Yesterday the battle was decided. The Germans hastily retreated, pursued by the Russians. The enemy's loss was heavy. The Russians captured Altsh and Gollap. Reports that the Russians have recaptured Isterburg seems to be official. This means that Tilt, a town on the left bank of the Niemen, besides north of Konigsburg, has been cut off from communication with other parts of Prussia.

"In the fighting from Monday to Friday, eight German regiments of the field army and six landwehr regiments, totaling about 20,000 men, with 200 guns, took part. Later the number was reinforced to more than 100,000 men.

"The German forces available in East Prussia, besides the independent cavalry division, are five army corps of the field army, totaling 210,000 men, with 500 field guns and 180 howitzers, besides a considerable number of siege guns.

Distribution of Troops.

The army corps are the First, at Konigsburg; the Fifth, at Posen; the Sixth, at Breslau; the Seventeenth, at Danzig; and the Twentieth, at Allenstein. Besides these, there are 10 landwehr divisions and 20 landwehr brigades, totaling 42,000 men, with 300 guns. The total German forces in the east, not counting the cavalry, are about 250,000 men, with 1,100 field guns, 100 howitzers and a large number of siege guns and a number of siege guns.

The country where the Russians will advance is full of large and small lakes, rivers, canals, and marshes. These natural advantages the Germans have strengthened by a large number of fortifications, including the fortresses of Konigsburg, Allenstein, Danzig and Thorn. But besides these the whole country is strewn with fortifications and permanent field works of every description, largely armed with heavy guns. All these military measures show the enormous strategic importance of East Prussia.

Germans in Retreat

A dispatch from St. Petersburg says the German army is in full retreat and crossing the river Angerapp in East Prussia, according to the St. Petersburg correspondent of the Reuters Telegram company. The correspondent adds that the passage across the river near Bartelmann is in the hands of the Russians. To the west of the Mauer lake the Russians occupied Hohensberg, Gollapburg and Wittenburg.

Soldiers of the correspondent continued, "was observed today. The inhabitants fled, the Germans evacuated Nitzburg, 10 miles southeast of Elbing, after setting the place on fire.

"The battle of Gumbinnen is claimed to have decided the fate of Prussia on the side of the victors."

Austrians Attacked

The correspondent, in addition, sends the following official statement issued Sunday:

"Nine Russian squadrons attacked near the station of Plobo, between Zlotcheff and Bircoff. A force double their strength. The Austrians accepted battle but were repelled over. We captured two mounted batteries and 100 prisoners.

"An Austrian force which attacked the town of Vladimir Volynsky, near the Russian frontier, now are in headlong retreat toward Sokal, Austria, 100 miles northeast of Lemberg. We are occupying some of the forts across the river Zhet. Our offensive movement in eastern Galicia is being carried on successfully."

LONDON, Aug. 24 (Monday). A Times dispatch from St. Petersburg, confirming the report that the Russian left has completely enveloped the remnants of the Germans, leaving the lake region and the line of the German retreat toward the river Angerapp in East Prussia, says that the Russians are even now sweeping the environs of Isterburg and have occupied Bartelmann, and thus the line between them and Danzig is now within the sphere of Russian operations.

"I learn from an authoritative source," says the correspondent, "that the German forces engaged lost two-thirds of their men. Unless the Germans are able to bring up strong reinforcements, which is doubtful, owing to the shortage of the important railway and road communications by the Russians, the latter may now press forward the investment of Konigsburg. The flight of the inhabitants from Wittenburg, 24 miles southeast of Konigsburg, is cautiously interpreted here. Some of the military writers attribute it to the Russian advance on the Mauer lake; others believe it directly due to another Russian movement from Poland toward Allenstein, 65 miles south of Konigsburg, which, if substantiated, threatens serious consequences for the German forces in northern Prussia."

Claim Important Victories

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 23.—Grand Duke Nicholas, commander-in-chief of the Russian army, today issued the following statement:

"Battles in East Prussia on the 17th, 18th, 19th and 20th of August were fought with the utmost desperation. The spirit of the troops is excellent. Our battle front extends for a distance of over 40 miles about 25 miles."

"The Russian troops occupied Gollap and Ayres. The retreat on the 20th of the German army corps near Gollap resembled a rout. The number of the Russian army corps captured in the treasury amounted to 10,000 marks. The enemy's troops are evacuating the frontier in the vicinity of Wittenburg. The German population is abandoning the villages and fleeing northward."

UR Austrian Frontier

"On the Austrian frontier up to August 20, no serious fighting occurred. The Russians forced an Austrian battalion to evacuate Barga and Ravazegg."

"On August 20, the Germans, near Gumbinnen, engaged three army corps and tried to envelop the Russian right wing, where the fighting was intensely fierce. The Russians took the offensive in the center and captured many guns. The enemy demanded an armistice in order to bury their dead, but this was refused. On August 21, victory crowned the efforts of the Russian army. The Germans, having suffered enormous losses, are falling back, pursued by the Russians."

hope it may be passed before the end of the week.

Tomorrow the judiciary committee will pass on the nominations of Attorney General McReynolds to be justice of the supreme court and Thomas W. Gregory to be attorney general. Favorable reports will be made on both nominations. The senate probably will not vote until Tuesday when there will be some expressions of opposition to Mr. McReynolds on the part of progressive and Republican senators.

Philippine Independence Bill

An effort will be made by the house insular affairs committee to get a special rule for consideration of the bill on Monday to Philippine independence, whenever the Philippines shall be ready to establish a stable government. Chairman Jones of the insular affairs committee, and Manuel Quezon, resident commissioner of the Philippines in congress, say that unless there is some action immediately the wheels of the Philippine government machinery will stop because of the paralyzed condition of the trade of the islands with Europe.

All moves at the capital bearing on the proposal of raising a war revenue awaits an expected message from President Wilson. Representative Underwood will not call a meeting of the ways and means committee to consider a war tax until the president gives the word that it is necessary. Estimates in the hands of congressional leaders and the treasury officials indicate a possible loss of $100,000,000 in the customs receipts this fiscal year. The Erie water power conservation bill is the pending regular business of the house.

When it was reduced to a mere heap of ruins and Major Nemeche, the commanding officer, judged that further resistance was impossible, he blocked up the tunnel by running several locomotives into it and set fire to the fuses leading to the mines surrounding the fort.

"His mission then accomplished, Major Nemeche determined that the German flag should not fly even over the ruins of his fort. He blew up the powder magazine and perished."

strict performance of its obligations in regard to the return of Kiao-Chow to China and of the limitation of the field of hostilities definitely set out in the British statement.

May Seize German Road.

No mention was made by Ambassador China in today's conference of the status of the railroads in Shantung province directly or indirectly controlled by the Germans. It was said at the Japanese embassy here that in all probability the Japanese army would content itself with the seizure of the railroad running inland to Tai Nan about 200 miles in length, because this was German in every respect. It was not expected that any attempt would be made to take possession of the extensive system of railroads lying between Tien Tsin and Nanjing, because, although these were occupied by Germans, they were nominally Chinese railroads.

The declaration of war by Japan was the chief development of the day here, though dispatches indicating the preparations in Italy for a mobilization caused some discussion. Many officials here, conversant with the situation, do not conceal their belief that Italy is preparing to enter the conflict on the side of Great Britain, renouncing her alliance with Germany and Austria. The view, however, is gaining ground from meager dispatches which indicate also a strong pressure on Italy to maintain her neutrality.

Germans Defeat Russians

Mr. Von Hainhausen, the German chargé d'affaires, took to the state department the following message, which he said he had received by wireless from Germany:

"Strong Russian forces were advancing against the German line at Gumbinnen. The first German army corps turned against the Russians on August 20 and checked them, secured 8,000 prisoners and eight guns. The German cavalry division took 500 prisoners after having fought two Russian cavalry divisions."

"The French attempt to invade northern Alsace has been frustrated by the defenders. In Lorraine the French are retiring from the frontier. The German troops and the Havas French news reports about the so-called big French progress most amusing, and just as false as some announced in 1910."

No attack, however, will be given Japan's ultimatum.

"The army north of Metz under the crown prince, advancing on both sides of Longwy, has defeated and forced back the French army. The other army, under the Bavarian Crown Prince Rupprecht, which, as already reported, won a victory in Lothian, is pursuing the defeated enemy, has reached a line from Lunville to Blamont, and continues today. The German guns since yesterday evening have been thundering at Namur."

"Very soon some new Zeppelins will be ready for work on the Belgian coast and the English channel."

NORTHERN MEXICO PEACE CONFERENCE WILL BE HELD SOON

Leaders Trying to Compose Faction Differences in Sonora State

EL PASO, Tex., Aug. 23. Preparations were begun today for the conference between the factions in northern Mexico looking toward the prevention of further revolution in the republic. The meeting will be held at Nogales, Sonora, as soon as possible.

The delegates will be compelled on account of railroad measures to travel through the United States or endure a long, hard overland ride.

Samuel Bolden, legal representative of the Constitutionalists, and Rafael E. Miquiz, their consul here, today called upon Gen. J. J. Pershing, commanding at Fort Bliss, and sought the required permission through the war department. They told General Pershing that Gen. Francisco Villa, the northern zone commander, whose differences with General Carranza already caused one peace conference and Gen. Alvaro Obregon, commander of the northwestern division and whose troops first entered the national capital, would travel without arms and only accompanied by their aides. They asked permission to go through the United States between El Paso and Nogales, Ariz.

Envoy on Way to U. S.

A similar request had been filed with the state department by the Constitutionalists representative at Washington, Rafael Zubizarain Capmany. Already Gen. Benjamin Hill, a Sonora leader, is on his way through the United States from Eagle Pass, Tex., to Nogales. He will pass through this point tomorrow accompanied by his staff. General Hill comes from Mexico City.

It was reported today that aside from the trouble in Sonora, due to Governor Maytorena's uprising against the Carranza government, that General Villa's yet unsettled dispute with the chief, would be taken up at the conference.

Federal General Pascual Orozco's command of several hundred volunteers were engaged Saturday by the Carranza brigade of General Villa's division, under Col. Ramon Molina, near Torreon, according to official messages received here tonight from Chihuahua City. No details of the engagement were announced. The Constitutionalists hold a deep hatred for Orozco and are reported pursuing his troops relentlessly.

CALIFORNIA TO HOLD PRIMARIES TOMORROW

Governor Johnson Expected to Pull Progressives to Victory

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23.—The voters of California will choose at a state primary next Tuesday their party candidates for state officers, United States senator and representatives in congress.

Five parties are in the field, but of these the Socialists and Prohibitionists will merely ratify the state tickets selected by their leaders. For the first time the Progressives, who two years ago retained the name and organization of the Republican party in this state, thereby depriving Taft electors of a place on the ballot, will go before the people as a separate party.

The registration has been overwhelmingly Republican. When the polls closed the totals resulted: Republican—422,671; Democrats, 238,921; Progressives, 214,022; Socialists, 58,841; Prohibitionists, 32,647; unaffiliated, 14,454.

Gov. Hiram W. Johnson, who ran with Theodore Roosevelt in 1912 on the national Progressive ticket, is the standard bearer this year of the Progressives in their state campaign. His supporters argue that the governor's personal strength is ample to overcome the unfavorable registration.

STEAMER CANADIAN IN WRECK OFF IRISH COAST

Tugs have left Queenstown to assist her.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—The Leyland line steamer Canadian, from Boston August 14 for Liverpool, has been in collision off the southwest coast of Ireland.

Boston, Aug. 23.—The steamer Canadian, reported in collision off the Irish coast, carried no passengers but was well loaded with foodstuffs. Included in her cargo was 140,000 bushels of wheat and 1,500 tons of raw sugar.

Calls for Volunteers for Perilous Mission; His Own Son Responds

PARIS, Aug. 23.—Colonel Folque, commander of a division of artillery at the front, recently needed a few men for a perilous mission and called for volunteers.

"Those who undertake this mission will perhaps never come back," he said, "and he who commands will be one of the first ones of France to die for his country in this war."

Volunteers were numerous. A young graduate of a polytechnic school asked for the honor of leading those who would undertake the mission. It was the son of Colonel Folque. The latter, pale but did not flinch. His son did not come back.

erona, which sailed from Glasgow August 12 and carried a total of 1,218 passengers. Her trip was without incident, no cruises being taken off Nantucket yesterday. The wireless operators were busy, however, keeping in touch with advisory sources all the way across so that the Cameroon might keep clear of any possible danger.

The steamer Chicago of the French line, which arrived from Havre on board 250 Americans, most of whom were engaged in business on the coast of France, which sailed five days earlier with a throng of returning Americans. Preferring to sail on a less crowded ship, they exchanged their tickets for others entitling them to passage on the Chicago. The voyage of the French liner was uneventful.

The Italian steamer Principe di Udine from Genoa arrived at quarantine late tonight and will dock tomorrow. The liner has on board 400 Americans. Among the passengers it was said are President Wilson, Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. Roosevelt, and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Vanderbilt.

Steamer Brandenburg Slips Out to Sea; Being Pursued by Warships

DELAWARE BREAKWATER, Del., Aug. 23.—Despite extraordinary efforts made by shipping men to learn the course taken by the North German-Lloyd steamship Brandenburg, which sailed from Philadelphia yesterday loaded to her capacity with coal, nothing was heard of the vessel since she passed out to sea early last night.

The Brandenburg is bound for Bergen, Norway, according to the clearance papers, and shortly after passing this point she was enveloped in a fog that made the few small sailing lights she carried indistinguishable. A British cruiser, anchored off Cape Henlopen, and which had been plainly visible from the shore, was almost lost to view.

The cruiser displayed a white or admiral's ensign, and it was believed by some marine men that the warship might have gone in pursuit of the Brandenburg.

AUSTRIANS SUFFER TERRIBLE DEFEAT BY THE SERVIANS

Official communication was made public here today.

"After the great Serbian victory, the Austrians fled in complete disorder before the Serbian pursuit."

The Ninety-first, the One Hundred and Second, the Eleventh and the Twenty-eighth Austrian regiments have been completely routed. The commander-in-chief of the Twenty-first division of Austrian infantry was killed, as was also the commander of the Twenty-eighth regiment.

"Seventeen Austrian craft have been sunk by the Serbian artillery."

The details of the great battle of August 20 are only now becoming known. The Austrian forces were composed of nine divisions and numbered nearly 200,000 men. The Serbians were much inferior in numbers, but showed greater heroism. Their handling of their artillery, their superior marching and endurance, their discipline and the accuracy of their fire insured them the victory.

"During their flight the enemy committed atrocities in the villages of Bobrich, Bogossavatz and Arashtas, slaying women and children."

DARIUS MILLER, HEAD OF C. B. & Q., DIES IN MONTANA

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—Darius Miller, president of the C. B. & Q. railroad, died at Glacier Park, Mont., today, after undergoing an operation for appendicitis.

He had been touring the park with his wife in apparently good health until last Wednesday when he was taken ill.

Physicians were sent by special train from St. Paul and Seattle to Montana. An operation was deemed imperative and was performed Saturday. Various officials of the railroad besides his wife were with Mr. Miller at the time of his death. The body is to arrive in Chicago on Tuesday when funeral arrangements will be announced.

Mr. Miller was born in Princeton, Ill., in 1858. Beginning his career as a stenographer in a railroad office, he served as an executive in various railroads. He became president of the C. B. & Q. in 1910.

Berlin Wireless Dispatch Denies French Success

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—The following dispatch has been received by the Associated Press:

"Berlin (no date) (wireless to Bayville, L. I.) August 23.

"The third French army has been defeated. This is highly important, strategically, as well as because of its moral effect. The campaign seemed to be the product of the much discussed French policy to anticipate an advance into Belgium by attempting to crush the center of the German positions in Lothian, which they were led to believe weak."

"As a result of the French failure, it is held probable that they will renew their defensive position. German experts are confident that the frontier forts, like those at Liege, will speedily succumb to the heavy artillery."

Belgians Said to Be in Good Shape

LONDON, Aug. 23.—The Havas agency has received a dispatch from its correspondent at Ostend, who says that M. Dewiret, the Belgian minister of justice, declares it is incorrect to report that the Belgian army has given up all resistance because of the superiority of the enemy.

"The Belgian artillery is in excellent condition, the minister declares, and every confidence can be placed in the outcome of the struggle."

Two-Year-Olds Flocking to Pikes Peak and Region Best for Babies, Says Eastern Writer

Babies flock to Pikes Peak Land is the headline over a feature story which appeared in the Pittsburgh Gazette-Times last week under Colorado Springs date. The writer declares the story is not a press agent boost on an attempt to extol the merits of this city as a summer resort, but a story of a region where the death rate among infants is reduced to a minimum. The article is part of a series.

The Pikes Peak region this year is a veritable land of babies. They are not here by the hundreds, as in some mountain peaks, but by the thousands. And they have come with their fond and anxious mothers from all over that great heat-ridden region known as the middle west. They have come out of malarial climates into a climate that is nearly always cool and free from extremes.

This is not a press agent story to extol the merits of a summer land of recreation and rest. It is a story of the activity of thousands of mothers and babies under 3 years old whose hearts have ached and whose souls have wept under the cognizance of that time-old, always true, exhortation that babies weather through the second summer without coming perilously near the dark river. But it is a story of the more fortunate among tens of thousands of mothers whose finances warrant the expenditure of the time and money to take their children to the mountains where scarcely one baby in 1,000 dies from the disease that haunts the homes of children in hotter climates during the summer months. A vast majority are unable to bear the expense and the records of health officials mark the disastrous results.

Land of 2-Year-Olds.

This is the land of 2-year-olds and less than two. To use the expression of the cattlemen, baby carts may be pointed by the score on the streets of Colorado Springs and Manitou at almost any hour of the day, and within an hour at that. Middle-aged and elderly people are in the majority here this summer, and the former constitute the major portion of the tourist population. Among these it has been estimated that three out of five are the mothers of infants that have been brought here for their health.

Every train brings a heavy freightage of children, and it is an easy matter to mark the newcomers as they travel baggage along the streets that lead toward the blue mountains. The babies are thin and pale, a majority of them, and look as though but another 10 days in the heat would have robbed them of their remaining summer vitality. Some are carried in bundles and in arms. Others recline in heavily quilted carriages and carts that push. Others have to be met at the station by ambulances and taken to the hospitals.

A week here and the color of the cheeks returns. The rare mountain air, the chill of the altitude and the waters of melting snow drive from the system the "cause" of the summer complaints and put new life into the organs of vitality. Little medicine is necessary, and doctors here seldom get to make more than a call or two on impotent infants.

Work Worth While.

If we had to depend on baby-trouble cases for our livelihood in the summer, says one of these, it would be worth while.

The season's offering has been prolific of twins. An old resident says he never before has seen such a profusion of pairs as is exhibited on the streets of Colorado Springs this summer. A fat lot of twins, girl babies of about 15 months, met a lean set of about the same age the other day, and the meeting was the subject of comment of half a hundred passers by during the few minutes of the meeting.

The fat ones had had the tonic of the mountains administered, and the lean ones were nearly out of the convalescent stage. Frequently during a stroll of an hour one may meet three to five proud-looking parents displaying their babies, with evident mental comparisons being rapidly carried on, will attract the attention of others waiting for the same car. Frequently there is a meeting of this kind in the park. There are babies brought together from the hottest cities of Chicago, St. Louis, Omaha, Kansas City, Oklahoma City, Dallas, Little Rock and other places in the middle west. The commercial clubs of the Pikes Peak region are missing a great opportunity for publicity in failing to hold formal weekly exhibitions of the flower of babyhood gathered here from over the country.

BULLETIN BOARD CROWD DECIDES WEIGHTY ISSUES

Europe's Big Problems Are Criticized and Commended Daily as News of Conflict Is Posted.

Have you ever attended a "fanning bee" in a village grocery store, where the farmers gather to pass opinion on events, political and otherwise, of the world? These village forums are known at almost every wide place in the road, and here, any hour of the day, a group of men with plans for the national welfare can be found, making frequent visits to the cracker barrel and cheese case.

If you never have had occasion to visit one of these institutions you've missed an opportunity to study human nature and the ideas of the plain people; but, even at that, your case isn't hopeless. Just journey down to the Gazette and join the groups in front of the bulletin board, where war and other news is posted as soon as it comes over the wires.

Many battles are being fought right here in Colorado Springs. "Amalgams are mapped out, issues of diplomatic importance are decided, cities are captured and the map of Europe is remade. Although the battles are entirely free from the sanguinary aspect of those on the continent, some of the arguments at times reach fever heat, much to the amusement of the spectators; but, so far, there have been no serious encounters because of a difference of opinion.

The Socialist, with his cur-all for political ills; the German, with his ideas about the Kaiser's war policy; the Frenchman or Englishman, with their views about the fate of the German empire; find a common battling ground on the sidewalk in front of the Gazette. Here they decide what should be done, and day after day several old standbys report for duty at the forum. At times the talk is crowded with people watching the bulletins. The politician has put in an appearance on several occasions and has had a rather critical audience to talk to.

Henry D. Steele Dies at Daughter's Home

Henry D. Steele died at 7:30 o'clock last evening at the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. P. Shove, 1229 Wood avenue. Mr. Steele was 82 years old, death being caused by old age.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Shove at present are in London. They expect to return to Colorado Springs next month, if possible.

Mr. Steele was one of the oldest blazers in Colorado, removing to Denver in 1883. He was in business in the capital city for years and moved to Colorado Springs only three years ago.

He is survived by two sons, Fender and George, both of Denver.

The body will be sent to Denver today for interment.

Final Play Festival Set for Wednesday

The final play festival Wednesday afternoon, which marks the close of the playgrounds for the season, will be more in the nature of an informal demonstration of some of the group games which have been taught this summer. School will commence next week and the children will be kept busy several hours of the day during the next nine months.

The object of summer playgrounds is not merely to amuse children during vacations," said Director Arthur Murray, Jr., "but to teach them how to entertain themselves long after the playground season is over. If they have learned 20 good games, they will be able to amuse themselves after school hours and keep out of trouble this way. Every day show, play festival, kite day, etc., makes children become participants in all these activities; and the only real preparation for life's duties is participation in all the opportunities and duties which come up in a child's life, rather than sitting in the grandstand and watching others."

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS TO ATTEND PUEBLO MEETING

Members of the Knights of Pythias and D. O. R. K. of the Pikes Peak region, numbering several hundred, will leave Pueblo this afternoon on a special train to attend the annual grand lodge of their order. The train will also carry the Denver and upstate delegations, and will leave Colorado Springs at 4 o'clock.

ARE WOMEN NATURALLY DESPONDENT?

A prominent writer so claims. Women are constituted with a delicate organism and in nine cases out of ten mental depression may be attributed to an abnormal condition of the system which expresses itself in nervousness, sleeplessness, backache, headache, causing constant misery and as a result despondency. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a simple remedy made from roots and herbs, is the one best remedy for this condition. It goes to the root of the trouble and overcomes despondency. Adv.

WILL CONSIDER STATE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Meeting Will Be Held Here Tuesday to Discuss Proposed Organization.

Plan Favorably Considered.

The proposition of a state chamber of commerce will be considered by the local organization Tuesday at the Alta Vista hotel, when the board of directors and board of control meet to consider the question of cooperating in the movement. T. B. Stearns, president of the Denver chamber of commerce, will address the meeting. Mr. Stearns has given a great deal of time and consideration to the plan, and his talk will be of interest to the association. The Denver organizations already have declared in favor of the movement.

Properly worked out and supported, a state chamber would be a success, according to A. W. Henderson, secretary of the local association, and in a general way members of the local body are in favor of the scheme. The problem has not been fully discussed and no definite decision has been reached.

Mr. and Mrs. Thayer Wanted in Chicago

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thayer, arrested last Friday by Chief of Detectives John Rowan, as the result of a family quarrel, are two of the cleverest forgers yet located in Colorado Springs, according to the police. The charges against them here—larceny for the woman and assault for the man—will be dropped and the two returned either to Chicago or Des Moines, Ia., both cities wanting them.

The Thayers are charged with having passed about a dozen checks in Chicago and almost as many in Des Moines, all of them for large sums. The man, it is alleged, wrote the checks and the woman cashed them.

Mrs. Thayer was arrested on a warrant sworn out by her husband and charged with larceny. Later he was arrested on a technical charge of assault, the police wishing to investigate his character.

COLORADO CITY RECALL FAILS; TIME LIMIT UP

Movement to Oust City Officials Lacks Support and Petitions Are Not Filed.

The movement started several weeks ago in Colorado City for the recall of the three city commissioners failed to materialize, and the men in charge of the plans probably will make no further effort to bother the administration. The time limit for filing of the petitions expired Saturday night at 12 o'clock and no petitions were presented to City Clerk May Ammerlaan at that time. Only about 25 names had been secured to the petitions, less than 50 per cent of the number needed.

Feared Dead Girl Was Her Daughter

Owing to a similarity in names and ages, Mrs. Mary Redmond of Texas, who is visiting in Colorado Springs, believed for a time that Lena Redmond, who died in a local hospital last week and whose relatives cannot be located, might be that of her own daughter, Lena Redmond. Mrs. Redmond read the announcements of Miss Redmond's death first reported as Redmond, and not having heard from her daughter for several months, feared that the dead girl might be her daughter. She viewed the body at the Bayle Brothers undertaking establishment but could not identify it.

The Redman case is a puzzling one to local officials. Messages went to the girl's former home in Paden, Okla., failed to bring an answer and the body will be held a few days pending word from relatives or friends in that locality. A physician from Paden visited the undertaking establishment and positively identified the body as Lena Redman and stated that the girl's mother is dead. He knew nothing of the quarrel which is believed to be the cause of the girl's leaving home and the subsequent worry that caused death.

BOOTLEGGING CHARGED

Charged with bootlegging, Henry Bryant was arrested yesterday morning by Detectives Bruce and Logsdon in the rear of 117 West Comilla street. Thomas Love, H. McClinton and C. L. McClinton were arrested for drinking in a public place. Bryant, the police say, has been fined several times during the last year for bootlegging. He buys a quantity of liquor on Saturday, then charges, and disposes of it to friends on Sunday.

POLICE RAID HOUSE

Mrs. A. J. Stevens, proprietor of the Colorado lodging house, 303 S. Tejon street, was arrested yesterday afternoon, charged with running a disorderly house. At the same time Fred Brown, Carl Smith, George Edwards, J. Martin and M. Brennan were arrested charged with gambling.

Present War Final One, Says Socialist

That the European war is going to make Socialists of many people was the contention last night of E. W. Cantrell, county attorney of Pitkin, Kan., in an address before the Socialists at Carpenters hall.

"This is likely to be the last great war," he said. "For, under socialism, there can be no war."

"American people may be drawn into the conflict unless they are very careful. War is the natural result of our present system, and as long as the dollar is the god of man just that long will there be war. These wars and struggles are but the necessary steps in the progress of nations and the ultimate outcome must be the cooperative commonwealth."

Geography of the War Zone

Geographic Society Issues War Geography Primer

Five the National Geographic Society. The National Geographic society is publishing in installments a primer of European war geography. The locations and descriptions of some of the places frequently mentioned in the war news follow:

THE MEUSE REGION.—The Meuse river valley has been within gunshot of probably as many battles as any other river of like length in the world. The river rises at Pouilly, in the department of Haute-Marne, France, and flows through Belgium and Holland into the Rhine. It is about 560 miles long, and its traffic, through the navigable portion, is almost as heavy as that of the Rhine itself. Near Brussels, just a few miles from Sedan, where the Prussian troops captured the French emperor during the Franco-Prussian war, it disappears underground for about three miles. This is only a few miles from the Belgian frontier. The river is canalized in Belgium between Liege and Vise.

The Meuse line of French forts extends from Verdun to Toul, a distance of 60 miles, completely covering all possible crossings of the Meuse by hostile forces moving eastward from Metz.

Between Toul and Epinal, the frontier districts are left open. At the latter place there is a series of forts beginning what is known as the Moselle line, which ends at Belfort, and encompasses the approaches across the frontier from Alsace and through the Vosges mountains.

The purpose of these two lines is to deflect possible invaders through the open gap between the two lines called the Toul-Verdun line.

LONGUYON.—A place of about 4,000 inhabitants, pleasantly situated at the confluence of the Chiers and the Cune. It is a noted hardware center.

LONGWY.—A fortress of the second class is situated here. The place is on the Chiers river, about 10 miles northwest of Nancy and some 18 miles southeast of Luxembourg. It is strengthened by a wall with a few outlying fortifications.

The outlying region has numerous iron mines and many blast furnaces. Longwy came into the possession of France in 1878 and later was fortified by Vauban. The Prussians captured it three times—in 1592, 1815 and 1871.

AIX-EN-CHAPPELLE.—A city of approximately 150,000 population, with its suburbs. It is located in Prussia, just east of the Belgian and Dutch frontiers. The Germans call it Aachen.

It has fine railway connections with Cologne, Düsseldorf, Liege, Brussels, Maastricht and Antwerp. By the treaty of Lunéville, in 1801, it was given to France, but was awarded to Germany under the treaty of Vienna.

ST. TROND.—A city of about 15,000 persons, on a line drawn between Liege and Antwerp, about 18 miles from Liege, and an important strategic position between the German frontier and Brussels. Its fortification was recommended by General Brachmont. It lies between Trier, Metz, Aachen, and Luxembourg, with a military wall six miles in circumference around its stronghold and Tongres.

VERDUN.—One of the strongest fortresses in northeast France, on the line between Paris and Metz. There are many forts guarding every possible approach from the frontier.

The Germans bombarded the fortress three times in the Franco-Prussian war. The chief quarter of the town is dominated by the citadel. The whole town is surrounded by a bastioned enceinte pierced by four gates. All these are 16 large forts and 20 smaller works, with a perimeter of about 30 miles. The greatest diameter of the ring of fortifications is nine miles.

ANTWERP.—A city of Belgium regarded as its principal fortified stronghold. Although 60 miles from the sea, it is still one of the greatest seaports of Europe because of the broad and deep Scheldt river. Its population is almost entirely Flemish. The city and river are defended by a number of advanced fortresses and by ramparts eight miles long. Part of the environs can be placed under water. The fortifications were built to serve as the rallying ground for the Belgian army in case it was overpowered in the field by a superior force.

MAASTRICHT (Maastricht).—The capital of the Dutch state of Limburg, situated on the left bank of the Meuse. It belonged to the Franks, the kings of whom resided there. It was taken by the Spanish in 1579, who plundered the place and put 8,000 to death. Prince Frederick Henry of Orange captured it in 1632 and the French took it three times—in 1673, 1748 and 1794. It was the only town of South Holland that held out against the Belgians in 1830. It is unfortified. Maastricht is only about 25 miles from Aix-la-Chapelle.

DINANT (Deenong).—Taken by Burgundy in 1466 and all male prisoners shot or caused to be drowned by being forced to jump into the river from the cliffs. This Belgian city has had an eventful career. Louis XIV captured it in 1676 and the English held it for 20 years. In 1815 the Dutch built the citadel which is still the sight of the place, but which was dismantled long ago. Dinant is a favorite summer resort of the Belgians. It is about 15 miles due south of Namur.

CHARLEROI (Schar-leh-roy).—A town of southern Belgium, on the Sambre river, some 20 miles above Namur as the crow flies and about twice as far by the river. In the center of the iron district of Belgium and enjoys water communication into France as well as across Belgium. It was ceded to France soon after it was founded, and was fortified by Vauban so strongly that it twice held out against the attacks of William of Orange. The fortifications later were razed, but it was refortified in 1816 by the order of Wellington. These fortifications finally were dismantled in 1868.

NAMUR.—A Belgian city of 40,000 inhabitants, situated at the confluence of the Sambre and the Meuse. The old citadel is on the rocky promontory forming the fork between these rivers. It is no longer used for military purposes. Vauban tried to make it impregnable after Louis XIV captured it in 1692, but William III retook it three years later, while the French got it back in 1702. Grouchy, on his retreat into France, made a stand here against General Pirch and his Prussians. A new scheme of defense was laid out in 1868 which included the abandonment of the citadel and the construction of a line of the elevated positions of the town. In addition to these positions, a powerful fortress, the key of the intervening territory between them, lends itself to defense.

MARCHÉ.—A small town in Belgium, three miles southwest of Liege and 24 miles southeast of Namur. It was near here, in a small skirmish, in 1792, that General Lafayette was taken prisoner by the Austrians.

HAUTFALIZE.—A summer resort in the high region of southeastern Belgium, 11 miles west of the intersection of the boundary line of Belgium, Germany, and the grand duchy of Luxembourg.

ROCHEFORT.—A small Belgian town, with a large summer colony, located 28 miles southeast of Namur, on a tributary of the Lesse river. It is famous for its grilles. Three miles from the town the Lesse river passes beneath a stone bridge, the exploration of which led to the discovery of some wonderful grottoes, consisting of 15 separate halls, and containing many excellently beautiful stalactite formations.

VIÈVE.—A small town with about 3,000 inhabitants, situated on the Belgian frontier across which lies Dutch Limburg. It is the midway station between Liege and Maastricht.

GIVET.—The last French station on the direct road from Paris to Namur via Rheims. There is a little neck of land about 11 miles long and six wide, belonging to France, but jutting up into Belgium, and it is in the northern extremity of this little strip that Givet is located. It is 11 miles southwest of Dinant, situated on both banks of the Meuse, and has a population of approximately 7,000. Its old fortifications were demolished in 1892, with the exception of the citadel of Charlemont.

THANN.—A German town in upper Alsace, with a population at the 1905 census of 7,801. It lies just about half way between the French frontier and the city of Muelhausen, and is a sort of outpost to the latter city.

SAARBRÜCK.—A town of about 10,000 inhabitants in Alsace-Lorraine, on the Saar river, 11 miles inland from the French frontier, and about 44 miles northwest from Strasbourg. It is about 39 miles east of Nancy, France. The chief industries are the manufacture of watch springs, and the making of gloves, lace, beer and machinery.

SCHIRMÉCK.—A German town on the road through the Vosges mountains from St. Die, France, to Strasbourg, Germany. It lies on one side of the Bruche river, and the town of Vöhringen on the other, just as Washington and Georgetown are separated by Rock creek. The valley of the Bruche is a busy industrial region, and numerous towns are situated in it. Schirméck is only 27 miles from Strasbourg by rail. It guards one of the passes through the Vosges.

MUELHAUSEN.—A town in upper Alsace, on the River Ill, an affluent of the Rhine, and also on the Rhine-Rhone canal. It is a great textile center. The manufacture of railway equipment and other machinery is an important industry. It passed to Germany with the close of the Franco-Prussian war, and thousands of the French inhabitants returned to French territory. The population is approximately 100,000.

MUELHAUSEN.—A city of about 10,000 inhabitants in the Reformation and in the thirty years' war. It is largely engaged in textile industries, and has many other manufacturing enterprises, such as the making of needles, machinery, cigars, soap, furniture and shoes.

PILA.—The Austrian naval base on the Adriatic sea on the gulf of Venice.

DUCHESSE OF SUTHERLAND. Who is at the head of a Red Cross corps now in Brussels.

NOT ARMED SOLDIER IN BRUSSELS WHEN GERMANS ARRIVED.

City in Great Agony as the Invaders Pour in from All Directions.

Antwerp All Astr for the Threatened German Invasion.

LONDON, Aug. 23 (Sunday). The correspondent of the Chronicle, writing under date of Sunday, says:

"After journeying the whole length of Holland by night, I entered the city of Antwerp early today, expecting to find it a city of horrors. Instead, it is a city of flags. From every building, from the cathedral to the humblest houses, the Belgian colors are flying. Many of the hotels and houses are draped as if welcoming some victor."

"As I saw the dusty, weary cavalrymen trudging into the city beside their horses, coming into Brussels, covered with dirt, except for the Belgian colors at their lance-points, I felt that Antwerp might well be proud of her men. If I know anything of soldiers, these men are far from beaten; they are looking to get their grip on the enemy again."

Flags of Three Nations. "The flags of England and France were hoisted with the Belgian colors on the Hotel de Ville and other buildings. Most of the people were wearing crosses made of the colors of the three nations. The moment I crossed the frontier, I saw the Belgian flag raised on a cottage, expressive of the little nation's gallantry and determination."

"At the approach to the city, cottages have been raised in order to prevent cover to the enemy. Earthworks are thrown up in the fields, heavy artillery is ready in fresh defenses to reinforce the forts. Every few yards on the city's ramparts are the silent figures of sentries with fixed bayonets."

City Alive With Allies. "The first night I saw on entering were the crowds reading the mayor's proclamation which had just been posted on the walls. This said that the city is in a state of siege, the sale of alcohol is forbidden, except by chemists, infringement means prison and a heavy fine."

"The city is alive with motor cars flying the allies' flags. Crowds continually collect to see the war-worn troops arriving from Liege. Boy scouts are dashing everywhere on bicycles."

"There is little news of the German advance but its approach is awaited calmly. A body of German cavalry which reached the outskirts was driven off and armored motors were sent in pursuit. In this way the Germans seized the railway station in the village of Nuyven, near Malines, and destroyed the telegraph and telephone there."

NOT ARMED SOLDIER IN BRUSSELS WHEN GERMANS ARRIVED.

City in Great Agony as the Invaders Pour in from All Directions.

Antwerp All Astr for the Threatened German Invasion.

LONDON, Aug. 23 (Sunday).—Reuter's correspondent interviewed an eyewitness who reached Ghent after the entry of the Germans into Brussels.

"The town," he said, "was in agony when the news filtered in that the Germans were about to enter. As a matter of fact, nobody believed that the enemy was at the gates of Brussels. 'Impossible!' was the general cry. But the truth had to be faced. A proclamation issued by the burgomaster, warning the citizens that the entry of the enemy into the capital of Belgium must be reckoned with, opened the eyes of all except those who, blinded by patriotic ardor, would not see."

"All morning the streets were filled with anxious crowds discussing the menace and asking for reassurances, but getting none. But today there were signs that even the most incurable optimist could not fail to see that the dreaded disaster had fallen on the city and beautiful city. Officers appeared in the boulevards, dressed for the entrance of the invaders and ordered the café waiters to clear away the tables from the pavements to make room for what was coming. The café proprietors decided to close altogether."

"The bystanders watched the preparations with tears in their eyes or in their temperaments. Great excitement became manifest around Louvain. The people arriving in the train cars had seen the Germans who demanded passes from them."

"Brussels, until Thursday, had been garrisoned by civic guards, reinforced by detachments of civic guards from other towns. Many of them had fought bravely at Tirlemont and Louvain. Now, by order of the burgomaster, the first division were dismissed, deprived of their uniforms and the men dismissed. The second division was sent to Ghent. There was not an armed man in Brussels when the Germans arrived."

"Even the poor little boy scouts, who, as messengers for ambulances, hospitals and the authorities had done yeoman service since the outbreak of the war, had been deprived of their uniforms, lest these should provoke the Germans."

NOT ARMED SOLDIER IN BRUSSELS WHEN GERMANS ARRIVED

Antwerp All Astr for the Threatened German Invasion

LONDON, Aug. 23 (Sunday). The correspondent of the Chronicle, writing under date of Sunday, says:

"After journeying the whole length of Holland by night, I entered the city of Antwerp early today, expecting to find it a city of horrors. Instead, it is a city of flags. From every building, from the cathedral to the humblest houses, the Belgian colors are flying. Many of the hotels and houses are draped as if welcoming some victor."

"As I saw the dusty, weary cavalrymen trudging into the city beside their horses, coming into Brussels, covered with dirt, except for the Belgian colors at their lance-points, I felt that Antwerp might well be proud of her men. If I know anything of soldiers, these men are far from beaten; they are looking to get their grip on the enemy again."

Flags of Three Nations. "The flags of England and France were hoisted with the Belgian colors on the Hotel de Ville and other buildings. Most of the people were wearing crosses made of the colors of the three nations. The moment I crossed the frontier, I saw the Belgian flag raised on a cottage, expressive of the little nation's gallantry and determination."

Antwerp is ready. I have no desire to reveal the secrets of defense, but I saw the pleasant woods and plantations put down."

"At the approach to the city, cottages have been raised in order to prevent cover to the enemy. Earthworks are thrown up in the fields, heavy artillery is ready in fresh defenses to reinforce the forts. Every few yards on the city's ramparts are the silent figures of sentries with fixed bayonets."

City Alive With Allies. "The first night I saw on entering were the crowds reading the mayor's proclamation which had just been posted on the walls. This said that the city is in a state of siege, the sale of alcohol is forbidden, except by chemists, infringement means prison and a heavy fine."

"The city is alive with motor cars flying the allies' flags. Crowds continually collect to see the war-worn troops arriving from Liege. Boy scouts are dashing everywhere on bicycles."

"There is little news of the German advance but its approach is awaited calmly. A body of German cavalry which reached the outskirts was driven off and armored motors were sent in pursuit. In this way the Germans seized the railway station in the village of Nuyven, near Malines, and destroyed the telegraph and telephone there."

Pontifical Conclave to Meet on Aug. 31

LONDON, Aug. 23 (Sunday).—A Rome dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company says it is announced by the cardinal who administers the holy see on the death of the pope that the conclave of the cardinals will begin August 31, and it is expected that the new pope will be elected by September 3 or 4.

OBSERVE DRUID FESTIVAL

For days before the festival the village lads collect materials for the great bonfire. The fuel is built upon an altar of turf and a match is applied at sunset, after which the folk solemnly march around the blaze and the dashing youngsters vie with one another in dashing through the flames.

The old midsummer fire festival of Druidical origin is still celebrated on the continent, but there is probably only one spot in Great Britain where it is still observed, and that is Tarbolton in Ayrshire.

side of the Kustenland peninsula. It lies at the head of the bay of Pola, and possesses a safe, commodious and almost completely land locked harbor. An extensive system of fortifications built on the hills overlooking the harbor guard the entrance. The manufacture of naval stores is the chief industry. Pola is famous for its ruins dating back to Caracalla and earlier. The outer walls of the amphitheater, which could seat 20,000 persons, are still standing. Pola was selected as the principal naval harbor of Austria in 1848.

BOYS AND GIRLS CLUBS INFLUENCE YOUNG PEOPLE TO REMAIN ON FARM, SAYS VAPION

Call of Cities Losing Drawing Power Since Rural Organizations Have Been Formed

The most valuable influences of country life in Colorado for young people are the club meetings of the farmers' boys and girls, according to W. E. Vapion of the Fort Collins Agricultural college, recently appointed state leader in club work among boys and girls, who was in Colorado Springs yesterday to confer with W. H. Lauck, county agriculturist. The whole movement of the rural club work is directed to teach the beauty and use of country life to farm children so that they will stay in the country instead of going to the cities.

The children are instructed by district teachers in every kind of useful pursuit. The boys are taught how to farm and the girls how to sew, bake, raise poultry and can fruit. In this way they are gradually shown that the country is a desirable place after all. "In one state," said Mr. Vapion, "a vote was taken by several hundred children before the clubs were started, as to whether they desired the city or country for a home. The result was in favor of the city, with the exception of 15 or 16 votes. The same question was asked three years later when the club work was well under way and the vote entirely reversed. That is what the work did for that state."

Twelve Clubs in County.
There are 12 such clubs in El Paso county which are supervised by County Agriculturist Lauck. Mr. Vapion went to a club meeting in Chico Basin yesterday with Lauck and was enthusiastic in his praise of the work that is being done. Rural district teachers busy on the work under the direction of county agents. The state leader is well satisfied with the work in El Paso county and said yesterday that he had never met such an enthusiastic crowd of boys and girls. "They were interested in the work and speeches and enjoyed it," he said.

Another important part of the club work in the opinion of Mr. Vapion is the influence the children have on older people. The fathers and mothers are urged to teach and the easiest way to get at them is through the children. When a father sees his son producing a mousetrap and treble the quantity of grain that he has been able to raise, he begins to think that there is something in the new farming methods of teaching. "In that way we reach a lot of conservative men and women that we are not able to teach otherwise," said Vapion.

To Enlarge Scope of Work.
The state leader is visiting the different county agents to get in touch with the work and is planning to enlarge the scope of the movement. He is visiting the schools and clubs with

CANAL EARNS $150,000 DURING THE FIRST WEEK

PANAMA, Aug. 22.—During the first week of business the Panama canal earned approximately $150,000, not including the amount collected for barge service and payments made in advance for ships on their way to use the canal. These amounts would bring the total receipts up to almost $150,000.

Traffic, while considerably good, was not up to the expectations of canal officers, who say that the war is keeping ships from using the waterway.

FRANCE DETERMINED TO DRIVE THE GERMANS BACK

PARIS, Aug. 22.—The following official communication was made public today:

"The entry of the Germans into Brussels, France is resolved to free the territory of its ally."

"The retreat of the Belgian army was a maneuver to be expected. It affects neither the worth nor the uncontested strength of the Belgian fighting forces."

CONDITIONS IN AUSTRIA SAID TO BE CRITICAL

ROME, via Paris, Aug. 22.—The Giornale D'Italia today prints a dispatch from Pola, Austria, saying conditions there are most grave. The correspondent adds:

"The authorities have issued notices asking all the inhabitants to make food provisions for 30 days. Those unable to do so must leave within 24 hours. This is due to the expected bombardment by the Anglo-French."

GERMANY HAS IGNORED JAPANESE ULTIMATUM

The German government to the ultimatum.

The Japanese charge was instructed to leave the interests of Japan in the hands of the American embassy at Berlin.

The next step on the part of the Japanese government, it was generally assumed here, would be an attack on Kiao Chow.

Expel Japan to Move.

A declaration from Tokio of a state of war against Germany would not be unexpected, for in Germany, as well as in Japanese circles here, the belief was that Japan would make the first move. At the Japanese embassy it was reiterated that Japan would carry out to the letter the terms of her ultimatum.

The United States, in the role of an interested, but neutral spectator, was prepared to transmit any communications from the two governments. Secretary Bryan announced that the ultimatum of the United States toward the ultimatum had been made clear and sent two days ago to the Japanese government.

This expression of policy places on record the expectation of the United States that in any eventuality Japan will restore Kiao Chow to China, preserve the territorial integrity of the Chinese republic and maintain the principle of the "open door" to the commerce of all nations.

Future of Kiao Chow.

Discussion turned here today on the future of Kiao Chow, the early surrender of capture by assault, and the question of Japan's promise to restore it to its ally, Great Britain, and to the United States to turn this territory over to China at a reasonably early date after Japan is convinced that the government of Yuan Shai Kai is strong enough to hold it.

The question has been raised in Tokio as to whether Japan could not be relieved from execution of this pledge if through Germany's refusal to meet the terms of the ultimatum Japan is put to the expense and trouble of taking Kiao Chow by force.

Intimations received in official circles here, however, are that the Japanese statement believe the time has come when efforts must be made to regain the confidence of the Chinese in Japan's intentions. Also it is deemed necessary for the successful development of the larger political plan of Japan in the far east that she should retain the good will of the United States.

Value of American Trade.

It has been shown that contrary to common belief, Japanese trade with the United States is more than double in volume the entire Chinese-American commerce. Last year Japan sent into the United States market goods valued at $31,633,000 and received American goods to the value of $55,241,000 while in the same time Chinese exports to the United States were $29,750,000 and American exports to China were $25,226,834.

In view of these considerations it is generally believed here that the Japanese government will follow out its announced program and restore Kiao Chow to China at the earliest possible moment.

Activities in the Orient.

PEKIN, China, Aug. 22.—The German authorities of Tsing-Tau have been sending noncombatants from that place according to advices received here today.

A dispatch from Hongkong contradicts a recent statement from Shanghai that two disabled German warships had been brought into Hongkong.

The American consul at Tsing-Tau, Willis D. Beck, has decided to remain. Reliable information received here by telegraph from a point outside the Kiao-Chow territory says the German outposts are at the borders of their leased land.

It has been questioned here whether the Germans would attempt to hold all their territory.

The Chinese government has removed all soldiers from around Kiao-Chow, fearing complications with the Japanese. No British contingent for Tsing-Tau has yet sailed from Pien-Tai.

GERMANY LOOKS TO U. S. AS ONLY FRIEND

Americans Are Treated With Much Consideration by the Germans

ROTTERDAM, Aug. 22.—Via London. A thorough analysis of American newspapers shows that the Germans have been universally courteous to them.

Dr. W. M. Kanter of Detroit, who traveled widely in Germany during the mobilization, stated that Americans could not have received better treatment in their country.

Dr. Kanter was in Frankfurt on the Main on August 2, when the surprise discovery of a French aeroplane, shot down and crashed down, the aviator being killed. That same night 15 Frenchmen were taken to a concentration camp using a wireless plant. They put up a spirited fight with revolvers, but were overcome by a rain of bullets.

At Cologne eight Russians were shot on August 7, one of the prisoners was discharged as a priest, two as nuns and the other five were the dress of women. The impression is that they were ordinary Russian citizens afraid to leave Germany any other way.

During the first few days of mobilization the Germans were all confident that they would win. Then it became known that England had made common cause with France and Russia.

Since then confidence is said to have given place to a grim determination to do the best possible.

There is no doubt that the Germans have made a special effort to be friendly to Americans. The feeling has prevailed that America is the only nation at all friendly to Germany.

Can't Live on $1 Day; Soon Starve Resting as Working, He Says

PORTLAND, Aug. 22.—I can't live on $1 a day and I'd soon starve resting as working," Edw. Gilbert, a laborer, testified before the industrial commission today when asked if he would accept $1 for working in the timber if he were out of employment. His sentiment was applauded by spectators.

Gilbert advocated that work on roads be provided by the state for the unemployed.

The commission closed its hearings here today and left for San Francisco, where a hearing will open next Tuesday.

POSTOFFICE ROBBED; FAIL TO GET LOOT

The charge of explosive was so heavy that it jammed the inner door in such a manner that the burglars were unable to open it. The robbers made their escape without securing any loot.

TWO OF FOUR PLAINTIFFS IN MASK BALL INJUNCTION CASE WANT NAMES WITHDRAWN

was induced to become a plaintiff and was told he would not have to appear in court, would not be put to any inconvenience, that the use of his name on the petition would be all there was to the case so far as he was concerned.

Just when the case will come up in court is still undecided, as attorneys for the defendants have filed nothing in the way of a demurrer or answer to the petition. Attorneys for the Chamber of Commerce, however, will make every effort to have the petition brought up tomorrow. If the court can get to the case, City Attorney J. I. Bennett said last night that Judge Ira Harris, representing the Chamber of Commerce, probably will file a demurrer, the effect of which is to raise before the court a question as to whether or not the petition states enough facts to entitle the plaintiffs to bring suit tomorrow morning, and that at 11 o'clock for both sides probably will argue this demurrer soon after and before District Judge John E. Little. If the demurrer is sustained the petition will be thrown out of court, but if it is overruled the demurrer will have to answer to the merits of the statements in the petition. Bennett will assist Judge Harris in the case.

Will Demand Plaintiffs' Presence.

Could said last night that he believes it will not be necessary for the plaintiffs to appear unless the other side calls for them. That the defendants of the City of Colorado Springs and the Chamber of Commerce will insist that all who remain in court was definitely predicted last night. In addition to demanding the presence in court of the plaintiffs naming one man connected with the case said last night that if these men will be so irreparably injured as they claim Judge Ira Harris, counsel for the Chamber of Commerce will want them in court themselves to testify, and not some of their people.

In addition to the maskers dances will be provided by the Indians at the Cliff Dwellings and several amateur dancers, who will illustrate the newer modern steps.

SEES AMERICAN STYLES SUCCEEDING PARISIAN

War Offers Great Chance for U. S. to Create Its Fashions

From the Chicago Herald

American styles for American women are likely to become an actual fact for the first time due to the European war.

This assertion is made by Frank J. Mitchell, president of Mitchell Brothers company, manufacturers of dresses.

"This is the first big opportunity the United States has had to show its own styles in women's apparel," says Mr. Mitchell.

Every person in the business from the managing heads down is working to the utmost to take advantage of the situation. I believe we will make good on it. I am certain that American women will wear American styles if they are becoming.

The attitude of the members of women's clubs, too, is reassuring, and will aid in doing away with freakish styles that they have been and are now compelled to wear because Paris says so.

Foresees Lower Prices.
As American styles become established, in popular favor there undoubtedly will be a tendency to lower prices.

The work of obtaining Paris styles and to point them to America has materially increased the price of dresses. The cheapest model that could be secured cost at least $200. The cost ran up to $1,000 for the finer styles.

Paris has been the style center because it has been the seat of haute couture. Mr. Mitchell asserted, Parisian designers meant less work for American designers and manufacturers and the women who purchased were satisfied. As the Parisian supply is now short off there is no alternative but for Americans to turn out their own designs.

Winter styles already are prepared and are of Parisian origin but the spring models to be launched upon in September will be of American design for the first time.

Mr. Mitchell thinks it probable from the present outlook that summer and fall designs of next year may also be of United States products.

Must Overcome Diversity.
American styles for American women have thus been in open question, says Mr. Mitchell. The matter of greatest concern is that we have a vast number of designers and consequently there might be too much diversity in style. In Paris the styles were the product of 12 or 13 modeling establishments.

To overcome that there are two organizations in the American trade that are in a position to assume this position.

The larger of the two is the National Dress and Dress Manufacturers association, organized by 40 or 50 active heads of concerns in the membership will meet and lay down certain style lines, such as long sleeve, tulle and basque. The smaller of these lines will be left to the designer, all of whom will work along these fundamental ideas as in Paris.

There are more than 3,000 manufacturers representing all classes of the trade and the smaller ones will copy the designs of the big houses precisely as is done in Paris today.

Materials Right Here.
The grave question of course is that of obtaining the materials but this situation is not as bad as some people think.

We can dispense with the raw wool and fabric, as during the last few years America has developed great industries and cut into the foreign trade.

Moreover, 75 to 95 per cent of the silk used in American ready-made women's garments is manufactured in the United States. In fact, several American silk manufacturers are doing an extensive foreign business until the war broke out, showing that the American silk is acceptable in Europe.

Some American chemists claim that the cost of dye processes are not German trade secrets, but that America has not completed French dyes could always understand.

Defends American Designers.
I have read French magazines that American designers lacked refinement of style but I venture to assert that we probably have as many highly intelligent designers as any other country.

BOSTON NATIONALS' MAGNIFICENT SPURT TIES TEAM WITH GIANTS FOR LEADERSHIP IN LEAGUE CIRCLES

New York, Losing Five Games in Row, Slipping Steadily; St. Louis Cards Begin to Figure in Chase; McGraw's Pitchers Demoralized and Batting Slump Points to Drop

NEW YORK, Aug. 23. Success has finally crowned the remarkable struggle of the Boston Braves to work to the top of the column in the National league race. Although still losing today, the champions have won their third straight game to tie the Giants for first place. The Braves were but half a game ahead and their defeat pulled them down to a tie with the Giants for first place.

George Stallings has made baseball history by his remarkable feat of the bringing the Braves from the bottom of the list to the top. On July 18, only a little more than a month ago, the Braves were in last place. They had already begun their sensational spurt, however, and the close of the following week found them in fourth place. Their rise during late July and August was rapid. Ten days ago they gave the Giants a stunning blow by beating them three straight on the champions' home grounds. McGraw's men have been slipping steadily ever since, while Boston has been tearing along over the western course in championship form.

The week just ended capped the climax of a giant retrogression, the leaders dropping two out of three games in Pittsburgh and then two to the Reds, following this up by taking a beating from Harp's men in the third game of the series today.

Boston, instead of going to pieces, as other challenging teams have done in sequels to the season's earlier bursts of speed by pennant contenders, kept on playing high-class ball during the week and lost only two games in seven, one an extra inning struggle with the Pirates.

If the Giants, with their pitching corps demoralized and in the midst of a batting slump, do not take a brass even they bid fair to be passed not only by the Boston but by either St. Louis or Chicago, perhaps by both. Each of these western teams is playing good ball and is close up.

The American league is still exclusively an affair of the Philadelphia world's champions. The Athletics have closed up slightly, but are still nearly 100 points in the rear.

BLACK FIGHTERS TO DISAPPEAR IN FEW YEARS, SAYS MENKE

Then Under von Maple Route Will be Unknown; G-10 Greatest Ever

By FRANK G. MENKE

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—A few years more and the negro race that has occupied such an important position in the pugilistic world for more than 30 years will have skidded off into obscurity.

Just a few years ago the negroes ruled the heavyweight division. Jack Johnson was champion, Sam Langford was runner-up, and Joe Jeannette stood head and shoulders over most of the white scrappers. But now a star is on the wane. Jeannette ranks now as a has-been, and Johnson alone holds his same place. But added years and dissipation have hurt Johnson. Sooner or later he must crumple, and when he does, he will go down with a loud splash.

There are no class negro lightweights today. When the wonderful Joe Gans passed on and down it left his race without a representative in that division. There are no real negro fighters in the middleweight division and one in the featherweight division.

The old discussion of who was the greatest fighter in the lightweight division has bubbled up again. Out in Chicago they think that Battling Nelson deserves the vote. The old-time fighters hand the crown to Joe Gans.

Gans and Nelson Compared.

The rank and file of fight fans feel that the title should be given to one or the other—that no other lightweight measures up to them. Gans and Nelson were totally different in their style of fighting. Gans was one of the most scientific men that ever stepped into the ring. He depended more on his wonderful brain, his amazing speed, his marvelous defense and generalship than he did on a punch.

Nelson, on the other hand, probably was the most unscrupulous citizen that ever held any kind of a pugilistic title. But how he could hit! And the punishment he could take! Nelson time after time stood up under a rain of blows from his opponent that had enough force to knock out 89 out of 100 men.

But knew nothing about science. He had no footwork, and his defense for the most part, was a joke. But he possessed the power to annihilate a terrible amount of punishment and still

Only Four Teams in Denver's Polo Meet This Week

DENVER, Aug. 23.—The annual western polo tournament for the possession of four cups, including the Thomas F. Walsh, Jr. championship cup, will open tomorrow at the Denver Country Club. The first and second teams of the Denver club, the Kansas City Country club and the Sheridan polo ranch team will compete. Tomorrow's match will be between the Denver team, and Tuesday the Kansas City and Sheridan four will meet.

Other cups to be awarded are the Walsh Jr. handicap cup, the Lawrence Phillips handicap and the Foxhall Keene open challenge cup. All of the trophies are now held by the Denver first team known as the Prairie Dogs.

Bundy Holds Old Town All Stars to Two Hits

Pitcher Bundy was too much for the Colorado City All-Stars in the windup affair in the double header at Zoo park yesterday, and Camp No. 416, W. O. W., won by the score of 5 to 1. The playing of both teams was not of the highest caliber, but the Old Town nine was weak both with the stick and in the field. Bundy allowed but two hits. Next Sunday the Woodmen will play the Zoo.

The lineups yesterday: W. O. W.—Goss, 2b; Fowler, 3b; Long, ss; Lamrose, c; Ludwig, lf; Fuller, 1b; Lewis, cf; Huse and Campbell, p.

Colorado City—Stott, cf; Gress, 2b; Burt, c; Leonard, 3b; Haroff, pf; Becker, ss; Reynolds, rf; Murphy, lf; Admondson, 1b.

save enough energy to slip over a finish punch.

"Brains," remarked Ad Wollast, who was a champion until Willie Ritchie came along, "are essential to a fighter's success. No one can hope to be a champion in any division unless he is brainy."

Eva get the inference? Ad was a champion, 'no. Ad goes on to say that no matter how well a gent can hit, and no matter how much punishment he could take, he never would amount to much more than a prelin batter, "unless he has a noodle."

"Look over the list of champions of the present day and the past and you'll find that all of them have been shrewd, brainy parties," says Ad. "Jack Johnson is a crafty person. Johnny Kilbane is brainy, so is Kid Williams, and so are Freddie Welsh and the top-notch middleweights."

ZOOZ WIN FROM '5 POINTS' WITH FIVE POINTS TO NOTHING

Bugel of Errors in Infield, but Fustick Too Fast for Amateurs

By UNION DAVIS

When yesterday afternoon's contest at the local zoological park was over, Colburn's Reds had not only copped the game but had appropriated the name that the visitors had worn down here—The Five-Point Merchants.

From the start it looked like it was going to be a pitchers' battle, but in the fifth the locals found Anderson and touched him up for five hits, which was equivalent to three runs. With the exception of this inning, the paths were not visited frequently. However, Fustick had easily the best of the argument and held up his already exceptional record which he has established this year by allowing the Denver bunch only three hits, and they were so scattered that they weren't of any use.

The fielding of both teams was at times brilliant, but for the most time erratic, this was especially true of the locals. Jimmie Counts tried his luck at second and pulled off a pretty double tagging a man on the way to second and making a pretty throw to Fowler. However, he followed this up with three bad errors that would have been disastrous had the up-state team been able to do any kind of attack work when hits meant runs.

The Zooz got their first run in the third, when Hastings rapped a hot one through short, sending in Reed. In the fifth, however, they sent their artillery to the front and pounded out a fusillade of hits all over the field, gathering in three runs. Then all was quiet until the eighth, when Counts opened the frame with a hit to left field for two bases and was sent on around by Fowler's liner through third. Fowler was caught at second by trying to stretch his single into a double. Waller also hit for an extra base in this inning, but died when Schneider flew out to left.

The visitors had a chance to score in the seventh and eighth, but exceptional box work by Fustick saved his team and the Five Point Merchants went home pointless.

Ze Grand French Soldier—Carpentier

Lajoie MISTREATED, IS OPINION OF FANDOM BIRMINGHAM JEALOUS OF GREAT FRENCHMAN

NEW YORK, Aug. 23. There are few fans in the country today who can believe the charges brought by Manager Joe Birmingham of the Naps that Larry Lajoie has laid down on him. The great Frenchman's charges against the club that lost that was in him.

Those who know Lajoie personally and those who know him only through his record as a ball player cannot be less than Birmingham's charges are founded on fact. For 15 years Lajoie has been in big league baseball and during all those years he has been a credit and a honor to the game. For 15 years not a breath of scandal has fluttered about his name.

And now comes Birmingham's charge and answer because he is the leader of a tail end town and attempts to blacken the name of a man who has done a hundred times as much for baseball than he ever has done or ever will do and whose memory will live and be cherished for decades after Birmingham has been forgotten.

Is He Jealous?

Does Birmingham wish to get rid of Lajoie because he fears that the veteran second baseman may supplant him as manager? There are some who feel that this might be the underlying cause for Birmingham's charges against the veteran. Several months ago a report was current that such a change would take place. Birmingham is said to have a contract that will last two years to run, but managers are not always retained for the full length of their contract.

None of those who know the great Frenchman intimately can believe for one moment that he would deliberately plot against any man. Lajoie stands up as a man clean and straight, and one who has given the best that is in him to his superiors for 15 years. Lajoie is certain to be a wonderful career, he could not change his nature and he would not sully his name by any quitting tactics.

Lajoie has not been hitting them out this year. His batting has been woefully weak. But there has been nothing wrong with his fielding, nothing wrong with his throwing. He still is, despite his 35 years, the most graceful fielder in the game, and he still ranks as one of the greatest defensive players in the big leagues.

Hitting Falls Off.

If Birmingham bears his charges against Lajoie on the fact that he is hitting, it would seem that Lajoie is being treated unjustly. Lajoie has been in a slump and batting slump comes frequently in the careers of even the most wonderful and most consistent sluggers. This is the first batting slump that Lajoie has encountered. Back in 1907 and 1908 the heat he could do was 298 and 240. The general verdict then was "He's through." Lajoie upset the dope by coming back in 1909 with 324 with 74 in 1910, 365 in 1911, 385 in 1912 and 325 in 1913.

This year Lajoie hasn't been able to hit them for better than about 225. His grand average covering all the other years of his career is 331, the best average ever compiled by anyone over such a lengthy stretch. It's a wonderful record and one no doubt that brought in Lajoie a feeling of pride.

An average of 225 for this season.

A prominent citizen died and a member of the family went to the newspaper office to read the printed obituary notice. The member of the family was realized. Look here, he shouted.

INVENTOR TO HAVE LATEST PATENT MADE IN SPRINGS

Twelve-Months-in-Year Industry Is One of City's Needs--Edison of Pikes Peak Region

W. G. TEMPLETON AND TWO OF HIS LATEST INVENTIONS. The section of the new "pivot bin" bins is shown at the top. These bins have a glass compartment for display of samples contained in each bin. Twenty-five compartments are shown in the section in the photograph. At the bottom is the new measuring bin, by which any amount at any price can be drawn out, through the computing scales. Several Colorado Springs merchants have installed both fixtures.

A 12-months-in-year industry, thinner-bucket brigades and payrolls is what Colorado Springs needs and should have, in the opinion of the Rev. W. G. Templeton, the Edison of the Pikes Peak region, and one of the most successful inventors in Colorado. And to bring about this condition the inventor proposes to manufacture his latest device in the region and has already interested a number of local business men. Templeton's inventions have consisted largely of fixtures for retail grocery and supply stores, probably the best known of which is his cheese cutter, a device which has already paid him $150,000 in royalties. His latest patent is a sanitary bin, an economical store and household necessity, which is so balanced on a pivot that its operation is easy and simple. This bin has been put on the market, a number having been made in the local lumber yards. A carload of the fixtures were sold last week to George Bernard for his new grocery store in Rocky Ford. The bins are arranged in sections and can be moved around. They are self-sealing and prevent the presence of mice or vermin. The operation is such that it keeps the materials in the bin continually turning over and gets rid of the stale goods that so often gather at the bottom of ordinary bins. Four Colorado Springs firms are using these bins and find them very satisfactory. Although his inventions in the past have been centered around various measuring and weighing devices, Templeton considers his new patent the best yet, because as he says—"it is so simple, so practical, it is needed in every home and store, is cheap and is a great labor-saver." He has a set of the bins in his home instead of the ordinary kitchen cabinet and finds that they are indispensable. Another of Templeton's late inventions is a measuring bin shown in the illustration. With this the merchant can automatically weigh out any quantity at any price and does not have to use scales. The device is mathematically perfect and does not vary a fraction of an ounce. A number of eastern as well as western manufacturers of similar apparatus are anxious to secure the rights to make the bins, but Templeton so far has refused to give the rights, desiring to have them made in Colorado Springs. "We should be making from $10,000 to $15,000 worth of these bins every day here," said Templeton. "The market is ready and we should have the factory here. Several representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and some local capitalists accompanied by newspaper men, visited the Templeton branch, as he calls it, at 405 North Main street, on Nob Hill last week and inspected the inventor's workshop. The theory of the invention is to have it as simple and composed of as few parts as possible, said the preacher-inventor. Scattered around his spacious workshop and his offices were a number of his inventions, most of them scales of all descriptions.

An Expert on Scales.
Templeton is one of the scale experts of the world. He has invented every kind of a scale, from the diamond balances, the chemists' finely-balanced scales, the merchants' computing scales and oil-tank scales. For several years Templeton was in the invention department of the Toledo and Dayton scale companies, and his patents are those generally used all over the United States today for measuring, no matter how fine the article may be. The Templeton scales are such that they do not require a system of tiny weights, but have a computer to take the place of them. Templeton was the first to invent the measuring oil tank, the features and principles of which are now used by the majority of manufacturers. A galvanized fence post, staples, and a fire-escape and outside elevator for large buildings are some of the recent inventions.

Templeton has been a resident of Colorado Springs for the last 17 years and at one time was pastor of Emmanuel Presbyterian church in this city.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

"I advised the boys when they enlisted for the Spanish war to take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with them, and have received many thanks for the advice given," writes J. H. Houshmand, Elton, Iowa. "No person, whether traveling or at home, should be without this great remedy." For sale by all dealers.

ter, showing it been allowed, would certainly have made the Paris congress the most notable assembly in the history of the movement. Among these subordinate congresses, subordinate as being merely national in scope, the one which most interests us of course is that of the Esperanto Association of North America; and its importance among the others is further heightened by the fact that the development which it registers is not subtle like the others to the check which the dreadful presence of war will enforce.

The present article will deal with some of the most salient aspects of the Chicago convention, while in some of its details it may furnish the theme of more reflective study at a later date. The congress was well attended, as Esperanto congresses go in the United States, having nearly a hundred participants. In comparison with the 200 who were enrolled for the Paris assembly, this seems a small number, but in our country it marks a good degree of interest, especially when the wide distribution of the membership is considered. Three general meetings of qualified delegates were held during the week of the congress, July 20 to 22—and two meetings of the council of the association. The officers for the ensuing year were elected, as follows: President, James D. Hallman of Pittsburgh; Dr. J. K. Simons of Chicago, Ill., secretary; treasurer, Dr. C. H. Fessenden, Newton Center, Mass.

Twelve countries were also chosen, each representing a division of the country, and having a voting power in the general council proportioned to the number of members of the association in his division. It appears by the report that the honor of representing the Rocky mountain division for the coming year has been conferred upon Frank H. Lord of Colorado Springs. The national delegate to the Paris congress was G. W. Lee of Boston, Mass.

It is apparent that the center of gravity of the association is still in the eastern quarter of the country, where the membership has always been largest. The executive committee of three are all New England men, taken from Maine, New Hampshire and Massachusetts, respectively, and as the latter state has the secretary, who is in effect the principal executive officer, the Yankee contingent possesses much more than the balance of power. But the vote for San Francisco as the meeting place for next year was practically unanimous, as was to be expected, in view of the Panama exposition. It seems not unlikely that this may result next year in the election of one or more officers from the Pacific coast.

Aside from its business sessions, the congress spent a considerable time in social pleasures. This is in reality an important part of its functions, as the present writer forcibly realized at the Washington congress some years ago; for however inspiring some of the public addresses might be, the opportunity for Esperanto conversation, and as the personal benefit for the congress, would not have been nearly as great had the excursion on the Potomac been omitted. The corresponding excursion from Chicago was to Milwaukee, where the local club, the "Hesperus," met the boat at the wharf and escorted the passengers to a park, where their visit was received. This occupied a large part of Wednesday, but there was scarcely a day without its excursion—Monday, about the Chicago stores; Tuesday, a picnic and a ball; Thursday, an automobile tour; Friday a visit to the "White City," with a jolly speech-making reunion at supper time; Saturday, a trip to Rivers View park. The most ambitious effort at entertainment, however, and by all accounts a remarkably successful one, was the opera, "Galatea," on Thursday evening, which was given in Esperanto, and in which we are told without a single error. Some of the leading performers had learned their Esperanto for this purpose only, but the result of the performance was chiefly due to the ladies of the "Galatea" Esperanto club of Chicago, who were foremost in the general effort to make this session of the congress an enjoyable and memorable occasion.

GERMANS AWAKENED FROM MIDSUMMER DREAM BY THE WAR

BERLIN, Aug. 22.—Not until the Austrian note to Serbia was published did anyone in Germany realize the possibility of war. Not until the first authentic news of the Russian mobilization did anyone seriously believe in its possibility. Never was a quieter midsommer time in Germany than the first three weeks of July, 1914. Everybody knew, of course, that the Austrian settlement with Serbia was coming and that there would be alarms, but the country had got used to that. It was holiday time and delicious holiday weather. Half Berlin was at the seaside or in the mountains, and the half that remained behind spent every available minute boating on the lakes or lounging in bathing costumes on hushed beach. From this midsommer day's dream Germany was awakened by the Austrian note. In an instant the scene changed. Singing, cheering mobs paraded the streets unreluctantly asserting that Germany is above all things, in the tune of the Austrian national anthem, or else greeting the kaiser to the tune of "God Save the King." Three or four days of this and then the Russian mobilization and another chapter of scene, this time to bitter earnestness. The matter had got beyond the stage of cheering.

Canadian Suggests German Prisoners Be Sent to Canada

NELSON, R. C., Aug. 22.—Lord Aylmer, former inspector general of the Canadian forces, suggested that the Germans taken prisoners by the British army during the war should be sent to Canada, and given tracts of land in sections where large areas await development and be encouraged to settle as peaceful and productive citizens of the country. Lord Aylmer is in charge of the mobilization of the Kootenay company of the First Canadian contingent.

PROGRESSIVE ORGANIZATION

SUNDAY, AUGUST 23, 1914

The Progressive party goes into the campaign of 1914 with a new organization, so far as organization is concerned, that it was when it faced the first political battle two years ago. It is just two years ago since the foundation of the Progressive party in the historic convention of Chicago. There were so many things to do then, and time was so limited, that in most cases the utmost that could be accomplished was the nomination of presidential electors. In some states, state tickets were also put in nomination. But in very few states was it possible to accomplish anything in the way of nomination of county and township tickets. The nomination of such tickets is the direct result of the thorough political organization.

From the beginning of 1914, the Progressive National Committee and the Progressive Congressional Committee have been working actively, in conjunction with the state committees throughout the country, to perfect the county organization, and bring about the nomination of full Progressive county and township tickets for the approaching campaign. Naturally, it has been too much to expect that in all states this work would be completed successfully. With their organization of many years standing, neither of the old parties has ever been able to accomplish that result.

The aggregate, however, accomplished that this work has been going on as steadily as the Progressive in the year and a half. It is the strongest evidence of the permanence and enthusiasm of the Progressive organization. For instance, in the great states of Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, east of the Mississippi, in Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa, west of the river, this organization work has advanced from the days of the Progressive party. Thus far it has been fortunate enough to avert the fate of its valiant little neighbor, Belgium, but its army has been mobilized and may yet be called upon to defend the land from invasion.

Let the people of Holland share the common fate of the Europeans. They must suffer privation and distress in the varied forms that come hand in hand with the common fate of the Europeans. Peace Articles for Next Season

By FRANK G. MENKE

NEW YORK, Aug. 22—The rank and file of fans are hoping that the next world series combat won't be between the Giants and Athletics. They've grown a bit tired of seeing these two clubs fight it out in the October haze, and they are pulling for some other club to join into the big doings.

If the Giants and Athletics had another world series duel, or the Giants and Tigers or Giants and Red Sox, fandom would be somewhat satisfied. But the great mass of fans would rather see the Red Sox and Cubs, or the Tigers and Cubs, than to see either of the teams that battled last year in action again this year.

The reason for this is that in the case of a series between the Giants and Athletics, the fans take it as a foregone conclusion that the Athletics again will conquer. It's sort of an old story repeated, and they want to hear a new one. They don't see two totally different teams in action.

Sign Now, Players! The wise ball player is the one who will leave immediately in trying to work both ends against the middle. He'll sign a contract right now with the organization that offers him the best terms. It won't be a good plan for him to remain on the outside trying to get the rival league to bid up a little higher for his services.

Signs of baseball peace are abroad in the land according to those who claim to be on the inside. Both factions are tired of war that has given no one but the players the best of it. If they decide suddenly to get together the unnamed ball player, who has been holding out for the magnates to bid higher for his services, will arise some a m and discover that all the world is sad and drear. There'll be only one thing left for him to do—to sign up at any old salary that he can get.

And you can bet on it that if the American, National and Federal leagues form a triple alliance, they'll get to it that the ball player who hasn't a contract for 1915 will get one—thirty and contract calling for about six kopecks a month.

Fandom asks just what would happen in case the Feds and organized baseball do get together.

Will they keep the three leagues intact or will they form two 12-club leagues?

Such a question is one that only the baseball leaders can answer. The baseball critics seem to think that two 12-club circuits would be far better than three eight-club leagues, but some of the big baseball leaders say that such a plan would not be feasible.

ARMY OF COACHES TO TRAIN YALE TEAM DURING THE SEASON

Blue Bowl for Harvard Game; Scores of Players Are Eligible

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 22.—Plans for starting the Yale football season were perfected at a recent coaches' meeting and the general squad has been ordered to report at Yale field September 14.

The biggest set of players who ever faced a head coach here is expected September 14, a smaller squad, largely the backfield men, will meet captain Bud Talbot and Frank Hinkley, chief of the coaching staff, in Madison, about 20 miles from here, on the east shore of Long Island sound, for light preliminary work. Billy Bull is the only other member of the permanent coaching staff who will be present at Madison.

The coming season will introduce more novelties into Yale football than any of its predecessors. A new head coach, Frank B. Clark, who has been installing a new system of gridiron play at old Yale, there will be a medical director for not only the eleven but for all branches of sports. Dr. Bull. The playing schedule will be the shortest on record, embracing only nine games and the only sunken football stadium in existence, the new Yale bowl will be opened for the game which forms the climax of the season, the match with Harvard here November 21.

Hinkley's style of game will probably include open play to the extreme. Secret practice may be abolished. At any rate, it will be greatly curtailed and the Yale attack will be entirely re-modeled. Hinkley, who captured two former Yale eleven, those of '91 and '94, has been coach annually with the exception of but few years since he was graduated but has never before directed a Yale campaign.

The Harvard game is the only one which will be played on the new ground in the Bowl. The old wooden stands are being prepared for the other games, 17,000 seats being provided. The Brown game, November 7, will be the last in the old stands which will be torn down at the close of the present season.

TO HOLD STATE MEET

The Kansas state F. A. M. convention will be held in Topeka on Labor day. Members of clubs through the state will tour to the capital city to attend the meet. The 1914 state championship will be decided at the same meet which is to be held in connection with the meet.

CYCLE AIDS MISSIONARY

With the expectation of greatly broadening the scope of his activities, Dr. J. S. Morgan, a medical missionary located at Tientsin, China, has purchased a motorcycle. With the aid of the two-wheeler Dr. Morgan says he will be able to penetrate much farther into the interior and still be only a few hours run from his headquarters.

JOE TINKER BADLY HURT: BROKEN RIB PIERCES LUNG

Leader of Chicago Federals Will Not Be Able to Play Any More This Season

CHICAGO, Aug. 22—Joe Tinker, manager of the local Federal league club, probably will not be able to play ball any more this season, according to physicians who examined him today, to ascertain the extent of injury he suffered in a collision in yesterday's game. It was found that a rib was fractured and a splinter of the bone had penetrated a lung, while in the same accident Tinker was spiked in the knee and ankle. Jimmie Stanley probably will substitute at shortstop.

MACK-SCHOELS BOUT OFF

Owing to a hitch in arrangements the bout between Jimmy Mack of Colorado Springs and Mugsy Schoels of Chicago has been postponed indefinitely. The affair had been planned for the Hiawatha theater in Manitou for tomorrow night.

PLAYERS GET ALL CLUBS NOTHING, SAYS BARROW

E. G. BARROW
ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 22.—President Barrow of the International league declares that the time has come for reformation in all leagues. The report is not on a firm foundation, he says. All of the clubs even the Federals, must haul in on salaries next year. They are spending more than the public is willing to pay. The players are getting all the money there is in the game, and more too. Such a state of affairs cannot last long.

BURNS, M'GRAW'S LATEST FIND, IS TOUTED AS ONE OF GAME'S GREATEST OUTFIELDERS

Can Wagner Make It 18 Years With .300 for Batting Average. Is Fandom's Query

By FRANK G. MENKE

The National league has found a new star in Burns, who is being touted as one of the game's greatest outfielders. Burns is hitting well, but his batting average is not yet .300. Fandom's query is whether he can make it 18 years with that average.
